Tullytown Schools Adopt Minimum Salaries of $3600

A minimum teachers' salary of $3600, believed the top minimum in Bucks County, was adopted by the Tullytown School Board last night.

The $3600 sum will go to inexperienced teachers with bachelors' degrees, who up to now have received $3000. Under state law they must get $2400 or more. Minimum pay for teachers with master's degrees was raised from $3200 to $3800, and the board resolved to study the whole salary schedule for an across-the-board faculty raise.

School superintendent John S. Linscott, Jr., was directed to accept applications and conduct interviews for four new teachers. They will be hired for classes from kindergarten to second grade starting in September.

Lease Kindergarten

The board last night hired Mrs. Anne Ginter as kindergarten teacher. It also signed a lease for a kindergarten room.

The board is renting St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Route 13, Edgely, and will set up kindergarten in the basement next month. The congregation ,moving to a new church on Levittown Parkway, will vacate the Edgely church, leaving the school board three classrooms for use in September. The monthly rental will be $75 for the basement and $175 for the entire building.

[illegible] was spurred by a group of Levitt[illegible] to provide transportation for their children. The board, however, arranged for the school bus to take the youngsters to and from their classes. Of the 60 eligible kindergarten-age children in the borough, 50 have registered.

Add Assessments

Use of the entire Edgely building in the fall may end double sessions in the borough, a board spokesman said. At present, all grades except sixth are on part-time sessions.

The board took two steps to raise money for more and better-paid teachers and new classrooms. The board solicitor was ordered to draft a 10 per cent amusement tax. The board directed the borough assessor, Mrs. Frances Strouse, to put an interim assessment on unfinished store units in the Levittown Shopping Center, that were not started when assessments were set last summer.

The joint advisory recreation council's recommended plan for a state - supported program was adopted by the board. Linscott was directed to apply for state approval of the program in Tullytown.

Summer Rec Jobs

Their salaries largely subsidized by the state, borough teachers will be offered positions as recreation supervisors in a program to start July 5, Linscott said. The instructors will get a state-mandated $2.50 an hour, he said, making a minimum-scale teacher eligible for a total yearly income of $5200 for full participation.

Tullytown Talks Ponder Tentative Budget of $68,000

Six cold councilmen sat in an unheated Tullytown Fire House last night and discussed cold cash totalling about $68,000.

That was the approximate sum of "pre-preliminary" allocation requests for the 1954 borough budget, "a rough estimate just to get us thinking," in the words of Councilman Oscar Bortner, chairman of the finance committee.

The $68,000 will be pared down, or possibly increased, by the Council when the budget is drafted. The finance committee will confer with Borough Solicitor William H. Conca to see how much the borough can afford.

Fight Millage Rise

The councilmen expressed opposition to any increase in the tax millage rate, but on the suggestion of Tax Collector Arthur Leigh, former finance chairman, moved to cut the discount on early-paid tax bills from five per cent to two per cent.

The fire house was cold because of an overload of water in the heating system. Levittown's new councilmanic delegation, Bortner and Edward B. Boyer, sat out the session in their overcoats, but the veteran councilmen and Burgess Frederick Rentschler conducted the borough business in their indoor attire.

Council discussed the possibility of an amusement tax, but Tullytown School Board, in a simultaneous meeting, apparently beat them

Bogey of School Needs Rises In Middletown Twp.

Board Informed 1500 Homes Will Be Occupied in '54

An announcement last night by Levitt and Sons, Inc., that 1,500 homes in the Middletown Township section of Levittown would not only be completed, but occupied, by January, 1955—only eleven months away—is a "matter of deep consternation to us," Charles Tetlow school board president, said today.

"The year 1955 may sound far away," Tetlow said, "but it's not. It's just around the corner as far as building new schools is concerned."

Basing his estimates on Levitt's figures, Tetlow said that a minimum of at least 375 children, adding to the already overcrowded conditions, can be expected to occupy the new houses.

Step Up Program

"We're going to need schools much faster than we expected, to meet the influx," Tetlow said. "It looks as if we're really going to have to step up our building program."

Tetlow said the new homes would consist of 1,000 Levittowners and 500 Country Clubbers.

The school board is already drawing up plans for one new elementary school, and inspecting sites for a second. In light of the Levitt announcement, the board is now discussing a possibility of a third site. Tetlow stressed a third site was "only at the discussion level."

He said according to surveys made by school administrators, three elementary schools would have to be constructed if double sessions were to be avoided. With only two new schools, and 375 more children of elementary school age, the hoped-for single session would not be possible, he said.

Offer Plans To State

As a part of the board's "stepping-up" program, architectural plans for the first new school, to be constructed in the country club section, were submitted last night. The plans were preliminary drafts, but were not due until February 1.

On approval of the rough sketches, the board directed the architects to take the plans to Harrisburg Thursday for approval by the State Building Authority. Accompanying the architects will be Walter Carter, vice-president of the board, and a construction supervisor. On their return from Harrisburg, the architects will be instructed to draw

Welcomers Line Delaware As Ore Freighter Steams By

Tosca Approaches Lower Bucks County

THE FREIGHTER TOSCA, bearing ore from U. S. Steel's Venezuelan mines, heads up the Delaware river on its way to the Fairless Works. The ship is carrying the first load of ore from the El Cerro Bolivar mines.

Bristol Sends Up Spray Greeting As Ship Passes

Today was a big day all along the Delaware river from the port of Philadelphia to the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel. This is the day the Tosca arrived, with the first load of ore from El Cerro Bolivar, the firm's Venezuelan mines.

In honor of the arrival of the Swedish vessel and her 9,000-ton cargo, today was declared El Cerro Bolivar day, up and down the river.

Welcoming ceremonies began at pier 4, Chestnut street in Philadelphia, shortly after 11 a. m. Greeting the ship were Gov. John S. Fine, Philadelphia's mayor, Joseph S. Clark, Jr.; Clifford F. Hood, president of U. S. Steel; Dr. Cesar Gonzales, Venezuelan ambassador to the United States and Santiago Perez, Perosa Venezuelan alternate representative to the United Nations.

Cask of Ore

Capt. Svante Hedin, master of the ship, presented the delegation with a cask of the ore. He in turn was presented with a set of silver by Philadelphia businessmen and with a piece of wood from Independence Hall by Mayor Clark.

Following the ceremonies, the dignitaries were entertained at lunch at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. The Tosca continued on up the river.

Flying flags and blowing whistles greeted the Tosca as she nosed her way steadily up the Delaware. Bristol and Lower Bucks and the Burlington chambers of commerce co-operated in urging industries and fire companies to blow their sirens as the vessel came into sight.

Burgess Anthony Niccol of Bristol urged all residents to fly the American flag where it could be seen from the river. Burgess William Burgess, Jr. of Morrisville joined Burgess Niccol in declaring today El Cerro Bolivar day.

Sprays of Water

Five engines from Bristol fire companies assembled on the Market street wharf to pump sprays of water into the air as a signal of greeting to the Tosca. Capt. Hedin answered the salutes by blowing the ship's horn.

Tomorrow there will be special ceremonies as the load of ore is unloaded at the Fairless Works. A small group of Venezuelan officials and top executives of U. S. Steel will observe the unloading.

May Hold Talks On Land-Fill Deal

Morrisville Attorney Philip E. Jones, representing the Bath Road Civic Association "may" meet this week with Bristol Township Solicitor I. Louis Rubin in an effort to work out an out-of-court settlement in the C. J. Langenfelder and Son land-fill operation.

Langenfelder was granted a zoning exception to remove fill-dirt from a 45-acre tract on Oxford Valley and Magnolia roads, a residential zoned area.

The Bath Road association appealed in Common Pleas Court the action of the Township's Zoning Board of Adjustment in granting the exception.

Radio System Base Gets Tentative OK

Bristol Township Board of Commissioners last night cautiously approved the establishment of a police base radio station at the Bolton Mansion with the stipulation that the Bucks County Rescue Squad and Bristol township fire companies be admitted to the circuit.

Before the motion was passed at the special meeting several revisions were necessary. The final note on the establishment of the radio system was a request from the commission for a comprehensive study of the cost of installation and operation and the number of communities that will pledge support and subscribe to it.

Police Only

The motion originally posed by Hary Morrell of the township department of safety, requested that the township operate the base radio station for Lower Bucks county police alone.

However, Wayne W. Locke, commissioner representing the Fifth Ward, insisted that the township fire companies and the Bucks County Rescue Squad be allowed to enter the circuit if they so desired.

Locke contended that "as a service to the community, cutting off radio connection of the fire departments would constitute a safety threat."

'Carry the Ball'

Both Morrell and Commissioner Albert H. Rogers, Jr., agreed that proposal of the establishment of the radio station was made in compliance with a recent meeting of Lower Bucks county police chiefs and officials where Bristol township volunteerd to "carry the ball to get the program started."

Although Locke originally stated that he wanted the radio circuits open to all fire companies in Lower Bucks county, he later changed it to Bristol township fire companies alone.

The motion was carried by a 5 to 3 vote. Dissenting votes were cast by Morrel, and Commissioners Elbert Kolhi and George Sottung.

A report of the police radio investigating committee will be presented at the next regular meeting. Adolph Andrews, president of the board, stated that the commissioners must have a complete report before definite action could be taken on the matter.

Permanent Head

Commissioners also voted to appoint Chief John Stewart as permanent head of the Bristol township police force. Stewart was appointed as temporary police chief to replace acting chief Ernest Nuskey on June 16.

A resolution was also passed raising Stewart's salary from $4700 to $5000 per year as of Jan. 16, the date of appointment.

The commissioners praised Stewart for his "excellent work" dur-

Youth Drowns In Icy Neshaminy

Brother, Playmate Frightened Away

A six-year-old Newportville boy was drowned yesterday in Neshaminy Creek while a younger brother and playmate ran away too frightened to say anything.

The victim, Gerald Tomaselli, Jr., of Fernwood road, was found by his father and a neighbor, James Vogalie, after Vogalie discovered his son, Ronald, seven, crying in the basement of their home.

Questioning revealed that the boys had been playing on the partially ice-coated creek when the ice broke dumping Gerald into six feet of water.

The two boys ran away when they saw Gerald disappear beneath the ice. The men hurried to the spot and recovered Gerald's body, but the boy was pronounced dead at Nazareth Hospital.

When members of the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad arrived at the scene at 4:15 p. m. yesterday rescuers said the boy's body was found lying on top of the ice. The two other boys insisted that Gerald had fallen through.

Chief William Schramm, of Bensalem police, said he was called in after the appearance of the rescue squad. At that time the boy was being administered treatment before he was rushed to the Nazareth Hospital, Schramm said.

The boy was pronounced dead at 6:10 yesterday by Nazareth Hospital physicians.

Fine Soft Drink Seller For Color In His Beverage

William McFarland of 6339 Castor avenue, Philadelphia, was fined $50 by Justice of the Peace John J. Brennan for selling soft drinks at Butch's Bucks County Auction, Trevose, without advertising that his beverage contained artificial coloring.

The charge was brought against him by H. Webster Shive of Ferndale, representative of the State Department of Agriculture.

Another charge that McFarland was making soft drinks without a manufacturer's license was dismissed by Brennan.

Brennan said evidence showed that Butch's Auction, where McFarland leases space for his soft-drinks concession, is a permanent establishment and not a fair or carnival. If the auction were a carnival or fair then McFarland could be considered a manufacturer and would be subject to the charge, Brennan said.

Two Persons Hurt In 5 Accidents In LBC Area

Two persons were injured yesterday in five traffic accidents investigated by Lower Bucks county police.

An 18-year-old girl suffered chest and face injuries when she was struck by a car at Bellevue avenue and Lincoln highway.

Nazareth Hospital physicans today reported her condition as serious.

The girl, Edith Harrington, of Woodbourne road near Penndel, was crossing Lincoln highway with her mother, Martha, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jean Harrington, of the same address.

State Troopers John Frederick and John McDonough, of the Langhorne Barracks, said the driver was Jay Paul Gentsch, 19, of Langhorne, RD 1. Gentsch is employed as an assistant surveyor by the Danherst Corp.

Gentsch told the troopers that he was making a left hand turn into Lincoln highway from Bellevue avenue when he struck the Harrington girl.

The two women said the victim was walking a step behind them when the accident occurred. The girl's mother was pulled from the path of the vehicle by Mrs. Harrington.

The injured girl was rushed to Nazareth Hosptial by the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad.

A milk salesman suffered a contusion of the muscle of the right arm when the truck he was riding in collided with an automobile at the intersection of Bristol road with Hilltown avenue, Lower Southampton.

Milk Truck Driver

The victim, Joseph W. Veight, Jr., a passenger in a milk truck driven by James J. Michael, of 1236 Atlantic ave., Philadelphia, was rushed to Nazareth Hospital by the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad.

Fire Chiefs Pay Graham Tribute; Successor Named

Announcement was made at last night's meeting of the Bucks County Fire Chiefs Association that former fire marshal Raymond Strunk of Quakertown has been temporarily appointed to fill the vacancy left by the death of Fire Marshal Robert Graham.

The appointment was made on Sunday at a meeting of the Bucks County Firemen's Association, according to Donald Roberts of Trevose. Roberts reported to the chiefs that permanent selection of a fire marshal will be delayed until June, when the firemen will hold their county convention.

Reads Tribute

C. A. Russell, of Trevose, secretary of the association read a tribute to Graham, who died on January 5. The tribute, which described Graham's death as "a great calamity" said, in part, "Twenty times the monetary, consideration would not or could not have compensated him for the amount of work don for us for for the people of Bucks county."

"Had he devoted his time exclu-

Fears of Displaced Family Soothed by Helping Hands

Courier Staff Photo

MRS. GEORGE UDEOKA clutches ailing son Georgie, 3, in the family home at Magnolia Gardens. Bristol civic organizations turned out to assist the hungry displaced Ukranian family with offerings of food and clothing.

A "little iron curtain" three miles from Bristol was dissolved last night on the Bristol Emergency Squad's second mercy trip to the Udeoka family. The Udeokas are Ukranian displaced persons living in Magnolia Gardens.

Completely replenished with food and supplies by persons who read of the squad's mission Sunday night, the group made another call with interpreters. Through the interpreters, they learned that the Udeokas had feared the gifts and their home would be confiscated.

The squad members were alarmed yesterday when Bristol township police reported going to the stone house with a county social worker, and finding no trace of gifts delivered Sunday night.

Got Interpreters

Mrs. Olga Buck of the Emergency Squad called the Ukranian American Citizens Club of Bristol and obtained the services of two interpreters.

In two cars filled with supplies, Miss Lorraine Bobbs, nurse captain, and squad members Nick Bodelli and Chick Badolato drove to Magnolia Gardens with the interpreters. Mrs. Udeoka, whose husband George is crippled with arthritis and whose three-year-old son has bronchial pneumonia, told the interpreters she had been frightened by the uniforms of the squad and township police she saw on earlier calls.

The Ukranian woman said that before leaving their homeland the family was told by Russians that in America their property would be taken away, that they would be nailed to crosses and cut into pieces. She hid the Sunday night donations, she said, lest they be taken back.

Happy Again

Long, forceful argument by the interpreters convinced the Udeokas that the uniforms of the Emergency Squad and township police stand for humanitarian, and not barbarian deeds. She beamed and shouted "God bless you" several times.

Mrs. Udeoka told her interpret-

See Area Office For Registration

CIO Committee, Officials Confer

There were indications yesterday that Bucks County Commissioners will set up a "semi-permanent" registration office in the Levittown area for registration of voters.

This was announced by Frank F. Flatch, president of the Bucks County CIO Industrial Council, after a meeting of Lower Bucks officials with the Commissioners in an effort to arrange for a permanent registration center in Lower Bucks County.

CIO Committee

Attending the meeting were George Kane, of Morrisville, chairman of a CIO Council committee on the matter, Paul Zuback, of Fairless Hills and Flatch, members of the committee, Bristol Burgess Anthony Niccol and Bristol Councilman Nicholas Pascale.

Representatives from Bristol Township were Adolph Andrews, chairman of the Township Commissioners and Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. William Bears, Democratic committeewomen.

Appeared Receptive

Flatch said County Commissioners appeared receptive to the proposal for a permanent registration center in Lower Bucks and said they indicated that a "semi-permanent" office might be set up.

Flatch pointed out the need for a registration site in the lower portion of the county citing the increased population in the area and difficulty that busy workers had in arranging for a trip to the central registration office in Doylestown.

Traveling registrars will continue with a scheduled registration tour throughout the outlying portions of the county before the spring primaries.

Levittown Civic Awards Will Be Made Tonight

Tonight will be award night at the monthly meeting of the Levittown Civic Association. Three Bucks County men will receive awards for outstanding contributions to education and the prizes in the Levittown Christmas decoration contest will be presented.

Receiving the education awards will be William J. Levitt, of Levitt and Sons, Inc.; Dr. Charles H. Boehm, Bucks County superintendent of schools, and Kent Larabee, director of the William Penn Center, Fallsington.

The three top winners in the decorating contest were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ducko, 394 Lakeside drive; W. G. Ingraham, 55 Sugarmaple lane, and John Winslow, 9 Spring lane.

The meeting will be held at 8:15 p. m. at the Edgely fire station.

STRING BAND TO MEET

The regular meeting and rehearsal of the Levittown String Band will be held in the Leivttown Community Center building tonight at eight, according to Bud Hesington, string band captain.

Veight was released after treatment.

State Trooper John McDonough said the driver of the automobile, Eugene A. McCarthy, of 712 Sanger street, Philadelphia, will receive a summons for reckless driving.

Police said McCarthy passed in front of the truck before making a turn to Bristol road.

Bristol township police reported a two-car collision on Golden Ridge drive, Levittown, late yesterday.

Total damages to both cars amounted to $50, according to investigating officer George Neill.

Hits Parked Car

Driver Donald N. Spangenberger, of 105 Dogwood drive, Levittown, glanced off the side of a parked car owned by John J. Wheihen, of 9 Arch lane, Levittown.

According to police Weihen's car was parked on the wrong side of the street. Police are continuing investigation.

Tullytown Borough police reported a slight accident at the intersection of Bordentown road with Main street, Tullytown. Investigating officer Steve Parto estimated total damages at $100.

Parto said a car driven by Mrs. Annie Lelinski, of Harrison ave., RD 1, Bristol was struck by another vehicle driven by Harry E. McGregor, of 132 N. Park drive, Levittown. No charges were preferred, police said.

Two cars colliding on Pond street near Jefferson yesterday each received damage estimated at $60.

William Missera, of 422 Washington street was driving east on Pond street, according to Officer George Shire, of Borough Police, when he collided with a car operated by Maurice R. Walker, Jr., of 421 E. Earl street, Burlington.

Walker had just discharged a passenger at the curb, the officer said. No injuries were reported.

ing the past six months. The commisioners offered a unanimous vote on the appointment.

Two more names were added to the list of special school police to be detailed at John Fitch Elementary School. They are James Taylor and Mrs. Doris Bartel, both of Levittown.

9 Special Police

By adding the two new officers the township now has a total of nine special school police on the squad. An ordinance of March 12, 1952 permits the township to hire as many as 12 officers. Each officer is paid one dollar per hour for three hours duty during school sessions by the township.

Chairman Andrews reported that he had met with county commissioners in order to establish a new registration system in Lower Bucks county. Secretary Oscar Booz was instructed to send a letter to the county commissioners requesting the commission "to set up some means of registration in Lower Bucks county other than the travelling registrar.

Andrews explained that the site of the proposed registration office will be set by the county commissioners.

Discussion of Bristol township employe salary was deferred until the annual budget is brought before the board.

Wheatley's Case Postponed Again

DOYLESTOWN — With both attorneys, J. Leslie Kilcoyne, of Bristol, and Sidney Krawitz, Pike County Bar member, absent, the case of Thomas M. Wheatley Sr., 51, Oxford Valley, scheduled for Argument Court at 10 a.m. Monday was postponed again.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite ordered the postponement when he learned Mr. Kilcoyne was ill.

Wheatley, who was convicted in September of shooting State Policeman George Caldarelli and Walter Leonhauser May 30, near Oxford Valley, is seeking a new trial in Quarter Sessions Court here.

He was convicted of three bills of indictment, involving three different charges and eight counts, including assault with intent to kill and assault and battery with intent to kill.

In Pittsburgh there were indications that Mayor David L. Lawrence will be called by AFL unions there to mediate their strike against five department stores.

AFL General Teamsters, Local 249, and the labor Standards Association quickly ended a negotiations meeting yesterday when unions and department stores failed to change their stands on deadlocked contract issues.

Major AFL unions yesterday voiced opposition yesterday to "unilateral" investigations of union welfare funds by New York's State Insurance Department.

However, they offered to cooperate to bring about "the best and most equitable results" if the department would discuss proposed legislation with a union committee.

Irregularities were turned up the welfare plan of Local 32-E of the Building Service Employes International Union, AFL, in New York City.

In spite of a "moderate" decrease in employment in the New York-Pennsylvania-New Jersey region, there were more persons employed on jobs last November than in other November on record, with the exception of November, 1952.

This information, released by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, indicated that there were 20,200 fewer jobs then than in the previous month. It was the third consecutive decline.

Over the month 64,000 fewer jobs were available in manufacturing establishments in the region and 75,000 fewer jobs than a year ago.

In November, according to the BLS report, 21 of the region's 24 major industrial areas reported employment declines, while only three reported an increased number of factory jobs. Eleven of the areas are, however, employing a work force larger than a year ago ranging from .2 per cent in Perth Amboy, N. J., to 9.3 per cent in Utica-Rome, N. Y.

In the greater New York-Northeastern New Jersey metropolitan area which provided factory employment to 1,768,000 workers in November a decline of 1.4 per cent from the previous month and 3.5 per cent from the previous November was reported.

Philadelphia showed a .7 per cent downward trend during the month before the November figures and .2 per cent decline from the previous year.

sively to his duties as fire marshal, he would have had a monumental task, but his unbound desire to elevate the fire service and make it second to none, led him to tasks that most men would shun."

"He took upon himself a tremendous amount of work, that was as much the cause of his death as any bodily ill he may have had."

Graham's Projects

Russell urged the association not to leave undone, the projects that Graham had been active in. He mentioned the chartering of the association, the establishment of county-wide fire codes, a fire school and a fire radio as things that should be continued in spite of Graham's death.

The group voted unanimously to establish the Chalfont Fire Co. as the address of the association. In order to be chartered, it is necessary to have a permanent address. Chalfont was chosen as it is the company of which Graham was a member.

A plaque, in memory of Graham will be purchased by the association and hung in the Chalfont fire station. Arthur Drach of Chalfont was appointed to head a committee to secure the plaque.

Russell was named to secure a charter for the association.

County Fire Code

William Ervin, of Cornwells, presided at the meeting in absence of Robert O'Neal, president. Ervin spoke on continuing the attempts to establish a county-wide fire code. The group voted to support the new fire marshal in setting up such codes.

William Stackhouse, co-ordinator of the county fire department reported to the chiefs on civil defense. He told them that funds are no longer available for the purchase of large fire equipment such as trucks.

Stackhouse said the money is available for small equipment and communications for use for civil defense.

He pointed out that the local fire companies will be advised of any part they are to play in a civil defense drill or in an actual emergency. Stackhouse said if it were not possible to contact the men. "I am sure the fire chiefs will know what to do."

He urged them to keep in mind, that in case of an emergency they may be of more use at home than traveling to the scene of the disaster.

David Jacobbi of Chalfont demonstrated the use of a wireless home fire alarm system to the association.

The chiefs met at the New Hope fire station where they were welcomed by Chief O. J. Markey.

not later than April 15," he said, "but we are going to try to get them in even before that date."

In connection with the selection of a site for a second elementary school, a representative of the Levitt firm, Nelson Kamuf, engineer, and Dr. Charles H. Boehm, county superintendent of schools, were invited to a meeting of the Board last night, held at the Neshaminy Joint High School.

List Advantages

Levitt and Son, Inc., has submitted a site on the Oxford Valley road, between the new water tower and cement plant. According to Tetlow, no agreement was reached by the board, as all members have not inspected the proposed 27-acre site. Several advantages of the site, however, were listed last night.

"It's in a fairly-central location," Tetlow said, "adjacent to Bristol township. The topography is good and it will be a good building site."

Tetlow added that the site was a little larger than what would be needed for elementary school purposes, but that it could be used in the future for a junior high school site, also. He said the board expressed general satisfaction with the site, but no final vote would be taken until all had seen the site. This weekend was set as the deadline for individual members' inspection of it, and a special meeting will be called early next week to approve it.

Collection Limit

In other school board business, a limit on the collection percentage of real estate transfer taxes, made by the secretary of the school board, was set. The two and one-quarter per cent rate made by the secretary will remain in effect, but only up to a $500 mark. After the first $500 is retained, a percentage of one-quarter of one per cent will apply.

The school board, in accordance with a recently-approved state law, reduced the trailer tax from $4 to $2 per month for each trailer in Middletown township trailer camps.

George Washington and James Madison were the two signers of the Constitution who later became U. S. Presidents.

The special guests of United States Steel will be Dr. and Senora Gonzales; United States Ambassador to Venezuela Fletcher Warren, Dr. and Senora Perosa; Dr. Delfin Enrique Paez, Venezuelan Consul General, and Senora Paez; Dr. Carlos Parez de la cova, Minister Petroleum Counselor and senora Commercial Counselor, Venezuelan Consul in Philadelphia, and Senora Rodil; Dr. Hector Esteves, Comercial Counselor, Venezuelan Embassy, and Senora Esteves; Dr. and Senora Jose Maria Travieso Paul; and Senor Francisco J. Lara, Chief of Information Service, Venezuelan Embassy.

Representing United States Steel Corporation will be President Hood, other top officals of the Corporation and their wives, and executives of the Fairless Works.

Taken From Hold

After a short ceremony at the Fairless Works docks, during which the first ore will be taken from the hold of the Swedish ship "Tosca," the party will tour the plant facilities and have luncheon.

U. S. Steel officials estimate that the new Venezeulan mines will yield approximately 2,000,000 tons of ore for use at Fairless Works this year. The firm has spent over $100,000,000 in Venezuela, making it possible to get the ore from the inland mine to the coast, where it can be shipped to this country.

to it. The school directors directed the solicitor to draft an ordinance for a 10 per cent school tax on amusements.

Talk Pay Raises

The appropriation requests included proposed $450 annual pay increases for members of the borough police force, including Chief John Walterick, and addition of a fifth man to the force. Bortner suggested that $2500 be spent in an effort "to bring us fair real estate assessments." Other proposed items were a $2500 survey for highway aid and possible zoning plus $7000 for general government administration.

Leigh, as treasurer of the Tullytown Fire Co., announced that an addition will be erected in front of the fire house, leaving the present engine room as a possible council chamber. Council could rent it at an estimated $7500 a year.

Discuss Inventory

Boyer, as a police committee member, questioned the burgess about an inventory of police equipment. He was told that a 38-caliber revolver, issued to ex-Police Chief J. W. Kratz was not returned. Chief Walterick, directed by the committee to make the inventory, said Kratz asked that the committee personally contact him about equipment.

The former coordinated police force organized by Levitt and Sons issued the gun to Kratz, it was reported.

Boyer called the former chief's refusal to return the weapon "an affront to council."

"To my way of thinking, it was issued to the borough," he said.

The matter was turned over to the solicitor.

Runaway Youth Sought By Police

Bristol township police are seeking the 14-year old boy, reported by his mother as having left home apparently to see relatives in Fort Worth, Tex.

The boy, George E. McBride, of 104 Schumacher drive, Bristol Terrace I, disappeared early yesterday morning, police said.

Mrs. George McBride, mother of the boy, said a suitcase was missing, along with some of the boy's clothes.

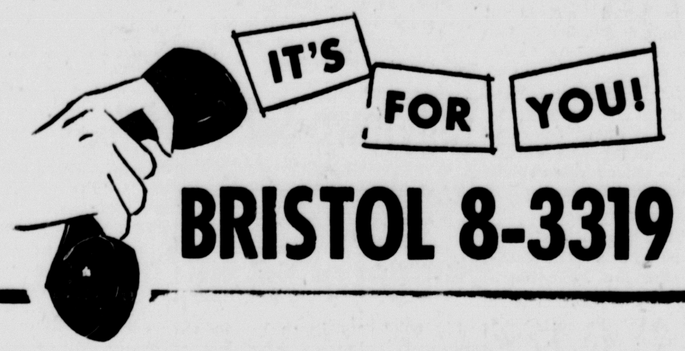

Police said the boy was wearing green jacket and hat, brown leather gloves, brown shoes and brown and white checkered pants. He is four feet six inches tall and has blue eyes and brown hair.

Gloomy? Don't Visit Sick Pals

FORT WORTH, Tex.—INS — If you're a Gloomy Gus, Salesman Sam or Nosey Nan, your sick friends will be better off if you don't visit them.

Dr. C. P. Hawkins, chief of staff at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth, said those three types of hospital visitors do little to help the patient along.

Dr. Hawkins warns that going into the details about your own experiences in a hospital only serves to disquiet a patient.

The ideal visitor, he said, is one who brings little bits of news from home or the office and then gets out.

The Right Route:

Everyone, it seems, who has now reached some degree of monetary fame, started out as a newspaper boy. The newest name to this growing list is that of Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel. We doubt if the reason Fairless achieved his present position has anything to do with his delivering papers—but that's how he started out.

Somehow, we're concerned that we have missed the boat—or maybe the route would be more appropriate—somewhere along the line. We never once have been or are now newspaper delivery boys, let us be the first to admit.

In any case, there's no denying there's something magical in being a newspaper boy, sort of almost a guarantee of financial success. Take Walt Disney, cartoonist; Cleo F. Craig, president of A. T. and T.; Crawford Greenewalt, president of DuPont; Bob Hope, John L. Lewis, Eddie Rickenbacker, Lowell Thomas, for instance—they too were carrier boys who "made good."

As for us, we're going home, rounding up all available youngsters, tucking newspapers under their arms, and turning them loose. They, of course, will not be permitted back into the house until they have earned their first million!

On The Wagon:

Readers have informed us of a place that advertises: "No Television." It's the Old Wagon Wheel Tavern, owned by Henry H. De Pue, on the Quakertown-Doylestown road. Sounds pretty like a wonderful place to escape to everyone once in a while, to us.

Early Detection:

According to experts in the field of research, lung cancers are being cured by early diagnosis and complete surgical removal before the cancer has had a chance to spread. Many of these cancers have been detected in the early, curable stage by routine chest x-rays.

It is the early chest x-ray that is the clue to the encouraging news, and residents of Bucks county are exceptionally fortunate in having a free x-ray program, courtesy of the Bucks County Tuberculosis and Health Society. Free x-rays are offered to every person over 15 in the entire county. Younger children will be x-rayed if their parents take them to the mobile units with a written request from a physician.

The units have been active in this area, recently, and are due to return again. In addition to the original x-ray, if there are any signs of "any trouble at all," the society reports, the patient's doctor will be informed, and a second set of x-rays will be taken, once again financed by the society, to further ascertain the patient's condition. From there on in, the patient must foot his own bills. But the greatest service has already been performed: the early detection of the condition, and the initiation of medical treatment for it.

Here 'n' There:

It's hard keeping up with the times, especially in the field of television. It seems color is not the latest gimmick: now they're working on a new teevee technique which will toss pictures on a wall or screen.

Board Names Mrs. Glockner Tax Assessor

DOYLESTOWN — Mrs. Jane E. Glocker of Fallsington today was appointed tax assessor for Falls Township by the Bucks County Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes.

She was named to fill the unexpired term of her late husband Sigmund J. Glocker. The term will expire the first Monday in 1958.

Ellwood A. Britton, the county's chief assessor, who made the announcement, said he believed Mrs. Glocker to be "one of the best qualified persons to fill this vacancy."

He pointed out that Mrs. Glocker had assisted her late husband in the performance of his duties and has a "full knowledge of the real estate developments that are taking place in Falls Township today."

H. Laros Presents 'Thought for Day'

The monthly meeting of Eddington chapter of the National Council of Presbyterian Men was held in Eddington Presbyterian Church House, Jan. 13.

Harold Laros, president, presented the "Thought for the Day."

The men enjoyed group singing, accompanied by Norman Lutkefedder at the piano. Howard Smith, Jr., district chairman of the National Council, presented the newly-formed organization with its charter.

An informal discussion was held and a film on Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., shown. Refreshments were served during a fellowship hour.

THE MOVE TO MODERN LIVING

See why the trend is growing to the 1954 Lincoln

The facts are simple: Lincoln is the one fine car whose sales have more than doubled in two short years.

There are good reasons why this trend keeps growing. The great new Lincoln for 1954 is the most dramatic edition of the car that started the big change in American motorists' ideas about fine cars.

Take, for instance, Lincoln's new styling—from the stunning new grille to the crisp, new rear deck and distinctive new taillights. It is a completely new design—akin to the ground-hugging, functional look found wherever the living is modern. Note, too, how well Lincoln's new colors and fabrics go with Lincoln's new styling; dramatic new shades in nylons, gabardines, and leathers.

Above all you have incredible performance. Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine has the new automatic 4-barrel carburetor—gives you superbly controlled action at all times. Add to all this the optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat and electric power window lifts—and driving becomes practically effortless. You'll know what we mean the moment you drive a wonderful new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.

Investiture Rites Slated For L'Town Boy Scout Troop

Investure services for newly-organized Levittown Troop 103, Boy Scouts, will be held at William Penn Center, Fallsington, Jan. 28. Twenty-eight boys, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Bernard Weissman, will receive their charter, cards and Tenderfoot pins. Members of Troop 4, Conshohocken, N. J., will conduct ceremonies for the new group.

Harold Van Wert, chairman of organization and extension for the Pennsbury District, is scheduled to present the charter. The event will be witnessed by Willard Ross, Scout executive of the Pennsbury district, and Robert Goldsmith, chairman of camping and activities for the area.

David Melnick, president of the Brotherhood of Levittown Jewish Center, the sponsoring organization, and Harry Brownstein, chairman of the Troop committee will represent the Brotherhood with other members of the committee.

Of special interest will be the Conshohocken group. Scoutmaster Bernstein was for twelve years connected with this troop as Scout and assistant scoutmaster.

The new Troop 103, organized as a non-sectarian organization by the Levittown Brotherhood, is composed of boys between the ages of 11 and 14 years. The troop has already held several meetings.

Parents of the new Scouts will be invited as well as members of the Brotherhood and the general public. Refreshments are planned following the ceremonies.

Teen-Agers Assist In Putting Out Doylestown Blaze

DOYLESTOWN—Four teen-agers ranging in ages from 14 to 17, assisted the Doylestown Fire Company when fire was discovered inside the Cross Keys Furniture Store on Swamp road.

With property at risk estimated at $30,000 the teen-agers and firemen held the loss to between $1500 and $2000, according to Alfred B. Patten, owner of the building. The furniture business is conducted by John and William Steltz.

Passerby Discovers Fire

The fire was discovered by Larry Guler, of Swamp road, a partner of Larry & Jim's Esso Station. He was passing by on his way to work at the service station when he noticed smoke inside the furniture store building. He stopped his car and checked more thoroughly, then hurried next door to a small luncheonette and asked them to call the fire company.

Due to this and the actions of the teen-agers and the fire company, damage was held to a minimum.

A hole was burned through the roof of the building, and the teen-agers, Byron Krebel, Ronney Norman, John Kentopp and Edward Patten climbed on the roof and shoveled snow into the hole until the fire company arrived.

Help Move Furniture

The teen-agers also assisted in moving furniture to a safer section of the building.

Firemen worked in a biting cold, the thermometer being 8 degrees. Smoke damage also was held to a minimum by the efficiency of the fire company.

Mr. Patten, owner of the building, said the fire was caused by an overheated time clock that operates an electric sign outside the building. He also said that several 18-foot beams that were about to break from fire damage, will have to be replaced.

Bishop Is Speaker At St. Mary's Hall

At the January meeting of the Parent-Faculty Association of St. Mary's Hall in Burlington, N. J., Mrs. F. R. Flounders, principal of the school, introduced the Rt. Rev. Wallace J. Gardner, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of New Jersey and president of the school's board of trustees.

Bishop Gardner spoke of the continualy growing educational needs of the Delaware Valley and of the important role which spiritual emphasis should play in the development of all students.

Carl J. Harnischfeger announced that the mid-winter project of the association would be a square dance to be held at St. Mary's Hall on Jan. 23 from 7:30 to 11 p. m. All students are invited to attend with their families and friends.

Jersey Parkway Contractors Sued By Poultryman

DOYLESTOWN—A former well-known Bucks County poultryman who operated a farm and hatchery at Lahaska, has started a $25,000 damage suit against contractors of a new section of the Garden State Parkway along the Atlantic coastline near Atlantic City.

He is James Hilliard, of Shore road, Beesley's Point, N. J., who owned a large hatchery at Lahaska until five years ago. When his wife was stricken ill he moved to the shore location where he developed one of the finest hatcheries in the state.

To Be Decided

The right of the Garden State Parkway to cut a swath through Hilliard's property near Atlantic City, without final financial arrangements with the owner will be decided this week at the shore resort.

Superior Judge Vincent S. Haneman has granted a temporary injunction to an Atlantic County tourist camp operator, halting preliminary work on a section of the parkway.

The court order restrains employees of the George M. Brewster Company, contractors for Section 11 of the toll highway being constructed along the State's entire Atlantic coast, from entering the 53-acre property of Hilliard on Shore road.

Seeks $25,000

Hilliard asked for the injunction and $25,000 in damages in the suit filed Saturday against the Brewster company and the New Jersey Highway Authority.

Hilliard contends that workmen with a bulldozer drove onto his land without permission while he was away and began knocking down trees and leveling the surface.

He said his daughter, Mrs. Janet Fulton, 23, was forced to stand in front of the bulldozer in order to stop the men from doing further damage.

Hilliard seeks the money for damage caused to his property on this and other occasions and for mental suffering incurred by his invalid wife, Catherine, who underwent extreme excitement due to the alleged illegal actions of the authority and the contractors.

DOCTORS CRITICAL

France Has Too Many Grapes; Surplus of Wine Is a Headache

PARIS, (INS) — Wine, wine, wine! It's a "hot potato" in France and pared from all sides.

The latest complaint comes from the Academy of Medicine which has accused the Government of promoting alcoholism.

"An insidious propaganda," the Academy said, "is displayed on match boxes (government monopoly). It brags about the merits of wine, when half of our hospitals are filled with alcoholics!"

And to top this, the doctors pointed out, the match boxes carry Pasteur's statement that "wine is the healthiest and most hygienic of drinks."

"A liter of wine," the match boxes quote, "gives the same nourishment as 900 grams of milk, 370 grams of bread, 585 grams of meat and five eggs."

"Drink wine!" the match boxes advise.

But Pasteur's grandson protested. "To take a sentence out of context," he admonished, "and use it for propaganda purposes, is dishonest."

But there are too many grapes in France. Not enough wine-thirsty gullets. And, consequently, too little money in the pockets of the growers.

"Why don't they tear up the vines and raise rice?" suggested one irate French newspaper reader in a letter to the editor.

The rice growers, however, are ready to tear up their rice and grow wine.

"What happened?" the rice growers have asked anxiously, "The government used to be all smiles for us."

"Then the price of rice went down 30 per cent," they lamented. "Then another nine per cent."

"Nobody even wants to see us now," they complained bitterly.

And so the ball is tossed around. Whether fermented wine or bitter rice, there will always be plenty of sour grapes.

RESCUE SQUAD TO PLAY HOST TO STATE GROUP

The Bucks County Rescue Squad will be hosts at the January Council meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of First Aid Corps and Rescue Squads. The association will meet Monday night at the Rescue Squad's headquarters, 1010 Maryland avenue, Croydon.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

The 4-H Club of the Newtown area will elect new officers at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the home of Carl Slack. Mrs. Raymond Taylor, leader of the club, will be chairman.

COMPANY JURIES

MADRID—(INS)—Spanish workers will now have recourse to "company juries" in solving of labor problems. These juries, created by official government decree constitute boards of arbitration which propose to promote harmony and good relations between employer and employee as well as increase production.

LEO ABERNATHY DIES; WAS ON LABOR BOARD

PHILADELPHIA — INS — Leo Abernathy, 53, Pittsburgh labor leader and member of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, collapsed and died Monday night after finishing dinner in a downtown Philadelphia restaurant.

Darrell W. Smiley, of Uniontown, board chairman who was with him at the time, assisted police in taking the stricken man to a hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Abernathy served as chairman of the Duffy-Fine Republican Labor Committee in 1950.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God will provide—Ge. 22:8.

We are taught to pray for our daily bread. Uncounted millions have found their faith justified. The trouble is that we ask for mountains of bread so we need not toil. God does not agree to that. Wealth spoils average men.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—A new demonstration of grass-roots support for the Bricker Amendment is anticipated next week with the descent on Washington of a delegation of aroused women from all parts of the country.

Representing something new and refreshing to this somewhat-jaded Capital, the women are paying their own way for the entirely - voluntary trek so they can present petitions bearing the names of hundreds of thousands of rank-and-file Americans who want the Bricker Amendment adopted.

LEWIS, JR.

About 250 women are expected, including delegations from such scattered states as California, Texas, Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and New York.

Their visit actually typifies the amazing swell of sentiment in support of the Amendment—particularly amazing because it comes not in response to any well-organized, well-financed campaign, but as a spontaneous feeling at the grass-roots level.

It shows that a tremendous feeling has grown up around the country in direct concurrence with the thoughts of the original sponsors of the Bricker Amendment—a fear that some future administrations might seek to circumvent constitutional limitations through international treaties.

The fear of such a possibility actually was the only reason the Amendment was proposed in the first place. It is not designed to curb the Executive's treaty-making powers, except insofar as they might be used to achieve ends which otherwise would be illegal.

Nobody believes President Eisenhower would mis-use the authority for such purposes. Many people believe that if the Fair Dealers ever come back to power, they might very well do so. Therefore, they want a specific provision written into the Constitution which would prevent treaties from abrogating domestic laws enacted by Congress or State Legislatures.

A loosely-knit, almost un-organized group which calls itself "Vigilant Women for the Bricker Amendment," is behind the forthcoming visit of these women. It is an outgrowth of a strong pro-Amendment feeling evidenced among delegates at a meeting of Mid-Western Republican women in Chicago last September.

Because of opposition from the Party's National leadership, the women were unable to put across at that time any resolution favoring the Amendment. However, several of them left the session with the definite feeling that it would take only a modicum of prodding to start a tremendous popular demand for its approval.

Two of them took the leadership in such an effort when they returned home—Mrs. Lewis Barker, of Chicago, and Mrs. Robert A. Murray, of Oshkosh, Wis. Using their own time, effort and money, they began writing letters to other women throughout the country, urging them to undertake their own campaigns.

That was in October. As they had anticipated, the movement did grow. With the help of small donations, they had printed many thousand petitions calling on Congress to pass the Amendment and had them circulated by their volunteer helpers. Now bearing hundreds of names, they are the documents which will be presented to Senator Bricker and others next week.

A second major purpose of the visit is to enable the women who have been leading this drive to meet each other face-to-face—for most of them, for the first time. Virtually all of their business up to this time has been transacted by mail or telephone.

Their trip will be an effective supplement to the popular support for the Amendment already evidenced by the sacks of mail being received in Senate offices. That mail is one of the primary reasons why GOP Senate leaders have been making such valiant efforts to reach some compromise acceptable both to the Bricker forces and to the Administration. They fear that continued opposition by the State Department and the White House will redound to the disadvantage of Republicans in November.

Dusting Off The News

By CHARLES O. MOLZ

The Bristol drug stores report a sharp drop in the sale of Vitamin A, as it isn't necessary to take 25,000 units to produce rosy cheeks as of mid-January.

Mrs. Nicklepuss says the store counters are just about recovered from the Christmas rush and she's waiting for a chance to test them again — for a good bargain.

If someone asks whether the Tosca today was bringing up a cargo of ore or cold rolled steel, the question will be put immediately in the $64 category.

Anyone who has a good recording of "Skaters Waltz" can get a rating in the neighborhood now like Jackie Gleason.

Uncle Ezra vows this is no time to worry about price supports if the corn will still pop over the kitchen range.

A Trenton firm has assured plenty of needle and thread for the Korean campaign in Lower Bucks County—which is really enough to sew the thing up.

Lazy Louie says when he reads the forecast of "Fair and continued cold," he wants to know what's fair about it.

Our nephew Cholmondley finds his history is getting all mixed up. There is a Monroe who was president and there is a Monroe who is a movie actress and there is a DiMaggio and please tell him what the latter has to do with the Monroe Doctrine.

With all the talk about trips to Mars, it was surprising last night how many people around Bucks County were pleased with a mere eclipse of the moon.

Outboard Motors Get Button Start

MILWAUKEE — (INS) — A new invention claims to put the outboard motor fan in the luxuary cruising class.

The latest development in boating is an outboard motor with a built-in electric starter that its makers predict will do for outboard boating what the electric starter did for the automobile.

Called the Evinrude Big Twin Electric, the new motor is a 25-horsepower unit that has an auto-type push-button starter on the dashboard that starts the motor at the touch of a finger.

U. S. Steel Sets Up Fairless Prices On Buttweld Pipe

The National Tube Division of the United States Steel Corp. today announced the establishment of prices for buttweld pipe produced at Fairless Works.

These mill prices, which are customarily stated in discount points, are as follows for standard black threaded and coupled pipe:

| Size | Discount Points | Size | Discount Points |
|---|---|---|---|
| ½ | 24-¼ | 2 | 33-¼ |
| ¾ | 27-¼ | 2-½ | 34-¾ |
| 1 | 29-¾ | 3 | 34-¾ |
| 1-¼ | 32-¼ | 3-½ | 25-¾ |
| 1-½ | 32-¾ | 4 | 25-¾ |

The above discounts are subject to the same extras and deductions which apply at Lorain Works of National Tube Division.

Generally, this will result in lower delivered prices to National Tube customers located in the east coast market including the Philadelphia and New York metropolitan areas.

In addition to standard weight pipe, buttweld extra strong pipe and buttweld line pipe will be produced at Fairless. Shipments commenced on Jan. 15, 1954.

Compiles Her Own 'Kinsey Report'

LONDON — INS — A curvaceous London model, possessed of a singular fondness for scientific research, has undertaken to compile her own "Kinsey report."

Rita Marshall, 29, raven-haired and single, has determined to do for Britain what Dr. Alfred Kinsey did for America — study and expose the sex habits of her fellow citizens.

A former nurse now employed as a model by a wholesale fur company, Miss Marshall has drawn up an intimate questionnaire. She hopes to get enough answers to be able to shed light on the normally darkened corners of Brtish behavior.

She said there are four women working on the project.

"We are in contact with two student doctors of St. Mary's Hospital. They have cooperated by providing certain of their case experiences."

Her interest in the subject, she explained, stemmed from her nursing days.

"Early in the war I became a nurse at Sparkhill Hospital in Birmingham, specializing in gynaecology. I was there for four years.

"When the Kinsey reports created such discussion, we discussed an investigation in England. It was my suggestion we should do one."

Miss Marshall said about 100 questionnaires had been distributed so far. Asked what conclusions she had drawn from her study, she replied:

"Oh, it's much too early to tell anything yet."

3 D's Beat 3 R's In This School

PHILADELPHIA—(INS) — The 3 D's are rivalling the 3 R's on at least one teacher's curriculum this semester.

"Dressin', datin' and disciplinin" may not seem appropriate as academic topics, especially for a school run by a large industrial organization, but those are the things that prompt the most questions at one firm's on-the-job training course.

It's perfectly natural for young girls to ask about them, says Rosemary Weymouth, who directs Minneapolis - Honeywell's specialized indoctrination classes for new distaff employees in the firm's Industrial Division.

"After all," she says, "we expect the girls to know how to type and file when they come to us, but it's normal for them to wonder what to wear to work, whether or not a date may be made over the phone during business hours and if they should be on a first-name basis with a boss."

These little points of protocol are the ones that bother most of the newcomers to the business world, says Mrs. Weymouth.

London Pace Slowed By Traffic Congestion

LONDON—INS — Britain's capital city has been slowed down to a "horse and buggy" pace by steadily worsening traffic conditions and mounting parking problems.

Traffic in London's metropolitan area during the working day crawls along at an estimated average speed of about twelve miles or less per hour.

Road congestion in London, and in fact throughout the country, has reached such grave proportions that members of Parliament, industrial leaders, motoring organizations and the man-in-the-street are loudly demanding government action.

Call London "Black Spot"

The British Road Federation has not hestitated to brand British roads "the most congested in the world" with London the worst "black spot."

The density of vehicles per mile in Britain is the highest in the world, 18.1 to 17.1 in the United States, and it is increasing daily as more and more automobiles flow on to the home market with the lifting of restrictions.

At the same time British roads, neglected for years, are cluttered with slow-moving bicycles, motorcycles, autocycles and horse-drawn vehicles.

Traffic Hazard at Worst

London, with its narrow, winding streets, was not constructed to take modern traffic, and is easily with nation's worst traffic hazard.

In 1953 London County Council issued 485,000 driving-licenses compared to 380,000 in 1938. The stage has been reached where the volume of traffic on London roads is so intense that in many cases the roads cannot carry more without a serious reduction in speed and an increase in the accident rate.

The parking problem is both a symptom and a cause of London's permanent traffic jam.

Widespread Criticism

Criticism of the parking regulations in London are widespread. No motorist has the legal right to park in any London street. There are some signs in London streets indicating that motorists are permitted to park but no time is mentioned.

There are also half dozen kinds of "no parking" signs, from the circular type to the sandwich-board type and a simple yellow mark on the curb. Scores of London streets are not marked at all and permission to park apparently depends upon the policeman on the beat.

The British Government, while recognizing the urgent necessity of tackling the London traffic and parking problems as well as the need for better roads throughout the nation to improve efficiency and safety, claims the nation's economic position is such that expenditure on road improvement must be strictly limited.

More "One Way" Streets

Efforts to speed up London's traffic have been made by designing more streets as "one way" streets, dismantling old tram lines and permitting unilateral parking only in some streets.

Government authorities have also been toying with such ideas as San Francisco square plan, in which a whole square is dug up, an underground parking lot built, and the square replaced again.

A working party on the London traffic and parking problems has recommended the construction of underground garages, the introducing of parking meters and a parking plan for London.

There is little hope that traffic congestion in London and in other parts of Britain will be alleviated in the foreseeable future. Experts claim current and contemplated programs to ease the situation and improve the nation's road network — unaltered since the 1920's — cannot be expected to even keep pace with the growing volume of traffic.

Southern Writers Score A Success

NEW YORK — INS — Southern writing, hailed by highbrow critics here and abroad as America's best, is not limited to works by Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Tennessee Williams and Nobel Prize-winning novelist William Faulkner.

Many less widely-known southerners are making the old masters look to their laurels, and a revealing anthology of their stories has just been published. Its title is Short Stories from the Southern Review (Louisiana State University Press, 435 pgs.)

The editors are Kentuckians Robert Penn Warren, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1947 for "All the King's Men," a novel about political corruption, and critic Cleanth Brooks. The stories they included are as varied in kind as they are high in quality.

Warren himself is represented by a story about a sensitive youth whose grandfather, a Civil War veteran, seems so aged and so much a part of the past that the boy feels no loss and no pain when the old man dies.

Master craftsman Katherine Anne Porter writes an interesting companion piece to Warren's story "Old Mortality" deals with a young southern girl who feels that she is a stranger in her own family because she cannot understand her parents.

There is a story by Mary McCarthy, the young lady whose hair-raising story "The Lottery" made a sensation of TV last year. (It was about a town which held a lottery each year and stoned to death the loser.)

Miss McCarthy is represented by a story called "Cruel and Barbarous Treatment," a scathing psychological study of a neurotic woman in love with her husband's friend.

And Eudora Welty analyzes the spiritual and emotional stirility of modern life in "The Petrified Man"—a Ring Lardner-type story, not about a barber shop but a beauty parlor.

These are just a few of the two-dozen stories in the anthology. Most of them are excellent. All reveal an understanding of people—particularly southerners. Only a couple fall flat because the authors indulge in long-winded philosophy rather than crisp story telling.

The stories originally appeared in the literary magazine The Southern Review.

SIX FLAGS

MOBILE, Ala. — (INS) — Mobile has lived under six flags since its founding in 1702: French, British, Spanish, United States, Republic of Alabama, and Confederate.

BE BETTER INFORMED

Professor Says Housewife Needs Shortcuts in Her Reading Habits

CHICAGO—INS — A Northwestern University professor believes that the homemaker can be better informed by using short cuts in reading just as she does in housekeeping.

Dr. Paul Witty, director of the University reading clinic said:

"You don't find many women today breaking their backs over washtubs. They are sold on washing machines. Yet most housewives are just old-fashioned girls when it comes to reading up on events in their communities or in the world. They read haphazardly, catch as catch can."

Dr. Witty urged housewives to apply the same efficiency to reading as they do to their housework by reading for a definite purpose.

Dr. Witty devotes a chapter in his new book, "How To Become A Better Reader," published by Science Research Associates of Chicago, to reading-with-a-purpose short cuts. They include:

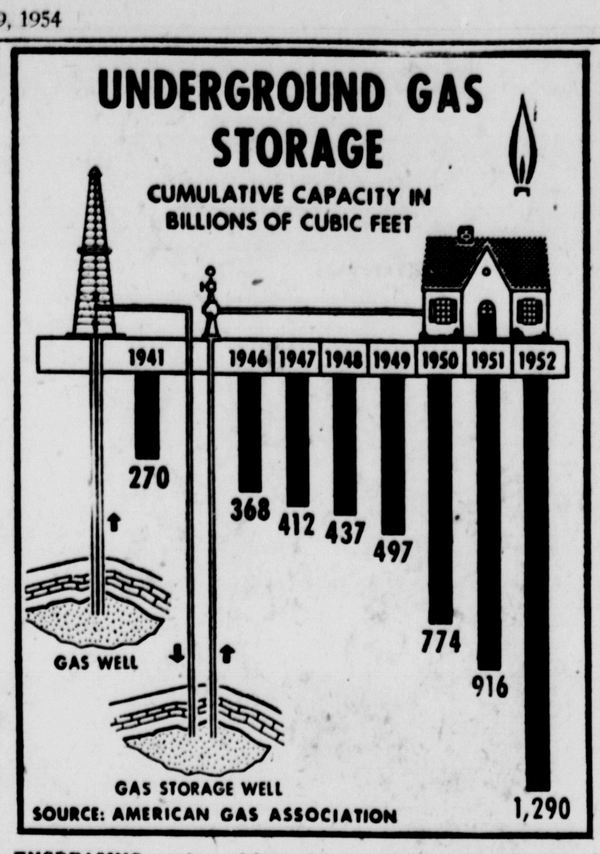

1. To locate good buys, read advertisements in newspapers by scanning them quickly and jotting down the names of the stores and the best buys.

2. To see what is happening in your community, skim the local newspaper, read the headlines and stop to read the stories you are most interested in carefully.

3. To keep posted on what is going on in the United States and in other nations, skim your newspaper on news magazine and then read the most important stories.

4. To answer a question that comes up in a discussion, take up a yearbook or encyclopedia. Use the index to find the page that answers the question. Read that page carefully and make notes on it.

5. To build or make something, read the article or book quickly. Then read it carefully, paying close attention to all instructions.

INCREASING numbers of house heating customers are being served as a result of extensive development by gas companies of natural gas underground storage facilities in the United States. Such "warehousing" of natural gas has been increased by nearly five times in the past decade. Piped in during mild weather when demand is low, this gas will provide heat this winter for approximately 13 million homes sheltering 43 million people.

Quickie Divorces May Be On Skids

PHILADELPHIA — (INS)—The Virgin Islands' booming "quickie" divorce business may soon be on the skids because of a recent Federal Court decision in Philadelphia.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, third circuit, ruled that six weeks of living in the islands is insufficient residence to get a divorce.

The legal opinion stemmed from an appeal made by Mrs. Sonia Herrup Alton, of West Hartford, Conn., who said she intended to reside in the Virgin Islands.

Her request for a divorce from her husband, David Eli Alton, was turned down by a U .S. District Court in the islands on the basis that a six weeks' stay does not necessarily indicate intention of permanent residence.

DIPLOMA COST

WASHINGTON — (INS)—Parchment diplomas awarded at commencements cost U. S. high schools and colleges more than a million dollars annually.

'Speakesay' Back As New Invention

CHICAGO — INS — The "speakeasy" is back.

Today's speakeasy is an aid to public speakers. The inventor, German-born Dr. Arthur W. Fornet, says his device is the result of years of study.

Dr. Fornet, who has offered his invention to the United Nations, says it is operated by the speaker and copy used in the machine needs no special preparation.

Demonstrating his invention, Dr. Fornet merely placed standard-sized office paper on a drum, stood three feet from the machine and began talking.

A special lens magnifies ordinary typewriting eight lines at a time and as the speech progresses, the speaker can turn a knob and bring another eight lines into view.

As each page is read the speaker removes the copy and the first lines of the next page are magnified and before his eyes.

Dr. Fornet said speech classes and public speaking students can use the "speakeasy" to learn confidence in the ability to give a talk before an audience.

The lens and rotating drum are invisible to the audience and the device enables a speaker to move on the platform without losing his place in the speech.

OLDEST ALUMNUS

PRINCETON, N. J.—(INS)—The Rev. Paul Martin, 92, one of two surviving members of Princeton University's Class of 1882, is the school's oldest living alumnus. Martin, who has been a resident of Princeton for the past 50 years, attends the university's annual alumni reunions and played golf regularly until 1945.

Woman Clergyman Challenges Group to Greater Service

A woman clergyman addressed members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in Wilkinson Methodist Church, Croydon, last evening, on the subject of "Pathways." The guest was the Rev. Miss Ethel R. Eggman, Philadelphia.

Basing her talk on the 25th Psalm, verse four, Miss Eggman spoke of walking with God in 1954. She read the 23rd Psalm, mentioning that in reality the 25th Psalm is the conclusion to the 23rd Psalm.

The pathways on earth are taken through forests, she reminded, adding that these paths are covered with grass and underbrush, and overrun with animals, likening such to the evils of the world.

"God has taken us through 1953, and out of many difficult and weary places. He has led us on to the heights" she reminded, speaking particularly of the W. S. C. S. as a whole. "God has provided for us, loved us, and will continue to do so in the year to come . . . There is a greater piece of work for the women to do. God can lead us through paths of trial and tribulation." The guest reminded how easy it is to work in the church, but that in the outside world it is a more difficult matter. "But we must remember, God leads us in the rough places also."

Turning to the 1st chapter of Joshua, the clergyman showed how Moses conversed with God. She read how Christians should not turn to the right, nor to the left, but walk "the straight and narrow path." Miss Eggman added: "The paths of God lead on to bright heights and to God himself. Seek the path where the Saviour has trod and strength shall be given."

Vocal solos were by Mrs. Walter Rice, these being "Only Believe" and "The Fountain of Every Blessing." Accompanist was the WSCS president, Mrs. Charles Perkins.

Subject 'Pathway'

The Rev. Ethel R. Eggman

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Ella Labor.

Report of cards sent to ill persons was made by Mrs. Richard [illegible].

Profit on sale of jewelry was listed at $52; and on plastic and paper items, $23.

A commercial luncheon is planned for Feb. 18, chairman being Mrs. Charles Winchester. This affair, to be held in the church, will be open to the public.

New members listed last evening are Mrs. Wayne Woodman and Mrs. Rita Dugan.

Named as chairman of the nominating committee is Mrs. Doron Edwards, this committee to report in March.

Mrs. Edith Parell, Miss Mary Misoreck and Mrs. Ruth McKinney served as hostesses. Thirty - two were in attendance.

Today's Quiet Moment

The Rev. Wayne A. Dockhorn
Pastor
Bensalem Methodist Church

"For this perishable nature must put on the imperishable, and this mortal nature must put on immortality" I Corinthians 15:53.

The means by which man lifts himself above his earthly nature and surroundings is the worship of God. Worship is basic to human progress. It is the beginning of worth-while accomplishment. Creative effort follows spiritual uplift.

Education is helpful, but without worship is ineffective. If we may personify evil, we may say that the devil is a smart, shrewd, cunning, well educated fellow. Education without worship might make little devils of all of us. Worship over a long period of time will transform a devil into a saint.

In deep worship the mind becomes keenly alert and attains its most sensitive power of discrimination between right and wrong. We become aware of our imperfections. The wrong in our lives stands out. At the same time our concept of right and duty is more clearly defined. This enables us to shape our lives more in keeping with God's will.

Worship, therefore, is the growing edge in the transformation of man from a carnal to a spiritual being. New spiritual tissue is formed as the new Adam gradually replaces the old Adam.

Worship is man in the process of passing from mortality to immortality.

'Good Books' List Distributed To P. T. A. Members

Lists of good books, prepared by Dr. Phyllis O. Edwards, was distributed to mothers and fathers in Andalusia last evening, on the occasion of Andalusia Parent-Teacher Association meeting. The lists were outlined as an aid to help parents collect good reading material for the young folks, such to replace comic books.

Club Women Hear Speech by J. Lord

Jay Lord, Levittown, representative of civilian defense, spoke before 40 members of Farmbrook Women's Club last evening in the Civic Center, Levittown.

Presiding was Mrs. Anthony J. Varano, 32 Favored Lane, Levittown.

Nominations were made for permanent officers. Election is scheduled to take place at the February meeting.

The group discussed the issue of open garbage trucks being used in Levittown. Letters of protest are being sent by Levittown residents to A. Kohli, Bristol Twp. Commissioner, protesting the use of such trucks, they being a public health menace.

Mr. Lord spoke at length concerning the importance of being prepared for any possible enemy attacks and that it is too late after the first bomb has been dropped. Mr. Lord enlisted the aid of each householder to learn first aid, fire rescue and general defense measures.

Several representatives of Bucks County Rescue Squad attended.

Zalot Impresses Women With Need Of Preparedness

Subjects discussed before members of American Legion Auxiliary, Jesse W. Soby Post, in Cadet Hall, Langhorne, last evening, included Civil Defense activities and veterans' legislation. The latter dealt particularly with the question of cars of ill veterans in government-operated hospitals.

Presiding was Miss Rita Keating, f Penndel, president of the unit.

A guest, Joseph Zalot, Langorne, past commander of Soby Post and now supervisor of Lower Bucks County Air Raid Warning Service, impressed upon members the need for more activie participation on the part of residents of the area in air spotter work at Langhorne's tower. "Civil defense is with us to stay for a long time. The international situation is no better" said Zalot.

He said that while air raid warning service was operating at approximately 60 per cent prior to the holidays, it is now only at 28 per cent.

"People are not willing to sacrifice their time. They are too complacent" he said, giving emphasis to this by reminding that "The Communists are building long-range bombers at a great rate. We must remember that there are 800 million people under control of the Reds today. Being in slavery, they have nothing to lose. We have everything we hold dar that we should save. It's something to think about."

Zalot told that the American Legion has been asked to supply rescue squads of eight men each for every community in the area covered by Soby Post. "Lower Bucks County is up against it with increased population. Civil defense units are good not only in time of war, but in time of peace."

Mr. Zalot displayed certificates for two members of the Auxiliary, Mrs. William Kay and Mrs. Roscoe L. Horner, each of whom have served 100 hours as air spotters. Three other observers, he added, will receive medals for over 250 hours. "In this work of civil defense, the American Legion and the Auxiliary should show the way," he reminded.

Mrs. John Montgomery, legislation chairman, spoke regarding the disagreement between American Legion and the American Medical Association, and the attempt on the part of A.M.A. to have non-service connected disability cases cared for at other than government hospitals.

In charge of records was Mrs. Gilbert Bonnell, Langhorne; with treasurer's report by Mrs. Warren Randall, Langhorne.

Mrs. James Tracy, Hulmeville, VA Hospital chairman, secured from members information on those who are or who have served as air spotters, wardens, taken first aid courses, etc. She gave emphasis to the fact all householders should be prepared for emergency, having in one spot, ready for quick "pickup" to take to place of safety, a supply of canned juices, candles, matches, bottled water, etc.

The unit endorsed Mrs. Tracy for the post of eastern director.

A fashion show in March, date yet to be set, will be a benefit for child welfare and rehabilitation work. Mrs. Edna Flynn announced this event.

A number of letters of appreciation for Yuletide gifts were read, these being from servicemen, ill folks and shut-ins.

Mrs. John Herran reported on a party at Byberry State Hospital, Phila., 91 patients being entertained. This party was partly made possible by Soby Post Auxiliary.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Richard Watson, Philadelphia, the former Miss Lois Evans, who was recently wed. Mrs. Watson spoke briefly to the group.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Kniley and Mrs. Max Ziegler.

Rheumatic Fever's Dangers Listed

Dr. J. F. McFadden, Andalusia, spoke last evening before approximately 20 members of Lower Bucks County Registered Nurses Association, when that group met in Bristol community house, Dorrance street.

Mrs. Arthur Rago presided.

Dr. McFadden spoke on rheumatic fever, its causes and effects. The disease, according to Dr. McFadden, is found more often in the temperate zone, rather than the tropic zone, due to the changeable weather and the frequency of colds, sore throats and running ears. It is among the first causes of death between the ages of five and 30 years, he stated.

Great things with sulfa diazine and penicillin, taken by mouth, are being done towards the treatment and cure of this disease, Dr. McFadden said.

He emphasized that there is nearly always heart involvement following an attack of this disease and the patient should keep under the care of their physician for treatment and check-ups.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Muretta Hauser, Levittown and Mrs. Margaret Hansbury.

An Office Stapler Is Handy Gadget To Have at Home

ATLANTA, (INS) — A humble gadget that has served the business world for the past 20 years is rapidly becoming almost indispensable to the little woman around the home.

The lowly stapler soon may substitute for a hammer, tack, or needle and thread in the hands of the housewife.

The hidden talents of the simple machine have been brought to light by resourceful home owners afire over the current "do-it-yourself" trend.

D. William Powers, representative of a New York firm which manufactures the versatile gimmick, said of a $10 de luxe model:

"Any place you can use a tack you can use a staple."

He referred to customer contacts which disclosed that the stapler has branched out from paper work to helping the housewife in such tasks as upholstering, covering an ironing board and lining shelves. Powers added:

"It has even been reported that a pocketsize stapler came to the rescue of a lady who ripped her dress hem for from a needle and thread."

And some seamstresses find staples good substitutes for basting pins.

The man around the house also has found other uses for his office tool. Said Powers during a visit to Atlanta to attend a building supply exposition:

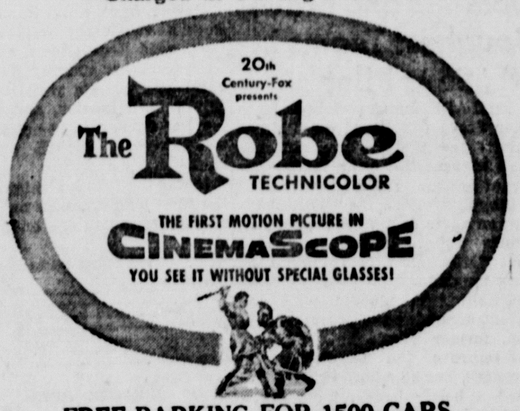

"The large staplers are being used to put up plastic storm covers on windows, and in home workshops."

To further endear the stapler to feminine users, the New York firm has provided a case resembling a fountain pen to hold a pocket-sized edition of the machine.

And a lifetime guarantee that comes with it is certain to appeal to the bargain-minded female.

Kaiser, Levittown Beaten in Upsets

TORANO TRIMS KMP, 70-60
CHEMICALMEN LAND, 80-55

STANDINGS

Franklin A. C. looked more and more like a seasoned champion in the Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference basketball race last night when it just sat still and watched its most serious challengers pick one another off.

Both Kaiser Metal and Levittown, Franklin's closest pursuers, hit the deck in a pair of jolting upsets. Torano's Garage, never better, set the stage with a 70-60 skinning of Kaiser, and rebounding Rohm and Haas swarmed all over Levittown A. A., 89-55, with surprising ease in the afterpiece.

The stunning turn of events left Franklin two and a half games up on the two losers, who are locked in second place. Rohm and Haas clung to a strong third place, three games off the pace, and Torano kept in the running by squaring its log for the year with four wins, four losses.

As in other recent games, last night's doubleбill boiled down to a matter of personnel management. Levittown got creamed chiefly because its George Kern failed to show, while Rohm and Haas' sterling Hugh Bowe used the occasion for his second airing of the year. Kaiser went in with a makeshift lineup, but at that, figured stronger when Torano's height—Frank Thropp and John Simmons—were absent. But it didn't work out that way.

Strong First Period

Torano fried Kaiser hides with a 22-point blossom in the first period and hung on doggedly the rest of the way. At one stage in the first round the Garagemen held a 20-6 bulge. This because Big Bob Whitfield pumped in four fielders, John Paone had three and Walt Holden two in the opening ten minutes.

Kaiser tightened it at 32-28 by halftime on the gunnery of Andy Accardi, Jim Long, Nevin Shinn and Howie Grant, but Torano boomed away again after intermission. Paone hit four times and Holden three in the third period, and just before the bell, Don Singer arched a very long setshot to give the Garagemen a 55-41 three-quarter cushion.

Accardi and Long looped three ringers each in the last round, and Kaiser cut it to five points with two minutes left, but Torano failed to blow. Paone had three deuces in the period to boost his take to 23 points for the game and it was enough to keep his club in the van.

Behind Paone came Whitfield (17) and Holden (13) for the victors. Acardi's 16, Long's 15 and 11 by Grant topped Kaiser.

Strong Last Half

Coach Fred Marino of Rohm and Haas had his best possible lineup at his disposal for the nightcap, but waited until the third quarter to get it in order for a 52-point last half blossom. That was just too much firepower for the Kern-less Levittowners to handle.

Toby Oriola, the steady little Chemicalman, caught fire in the last three quarters to guide his team's attack with 28 points. Oriola had 14 field goals and used every shot in the book along the way. Pat Carnavale had 12 points, Bowe ten and Walt Zook nine to pad R&H totals.

The contest was tied at four, six, eight and 15 early in the game as skipper Stew Tomkins had 11 of Levittown's first 15 points, but big Stew couldn't go it alone. LAA led briefly late in the first half, but Oriola hit three straight to put his team ahead forever by 28-26 at halftime.

Toby was good on five third quarter flings and as many more in the last round as R&H scored 26 markers in each quarter. Levittown got only an aggregate 29 over the same route. Tomkins finished with 23 points, while Bill Hughes had 15 for the losers.

Marino, in an effort to parry Levitown's customary height advantage, used Zook, Bowe and Augie Everett in his starting lineup, but got better results with diminutive Bill Butz, a hustler, and setshooting Pat Carnavale in action. Bowe was strength enough under the rims.

It was the fourth straight win for the Chemicalmen, who haven't lost since Torano tied one on them Dec. 17.

Hatboro B. C. Cops Lead in OT Bowling

Hatboro B. C. bounded into first place in the Oakford-Trevose Business Men's bowling league last week and set a new high team single for the season although the team had no competition at all.

The riddle involves a forfeit, taken by the Hatboro team over Walt's Tavern. Since the entire Hatboro team was on hand, it bowled for averages and came up with a 903 game, tops for the loop this year.

Hatboro's climb into first place was made easier when last place Rolin Tool and Die hung a 2-1 defeat on strong Mortimore Clothes, which had held the top spot. The Tool team was spurred along by the appearance of Jim Cummings, its sponsor.

Four 200 Games

With the end of the first half just two weeks away, Hatboro holds a single game lead over Mortimore and I-O-B, which share second place, and a two-game edge over Trevose T.V. and Hilsbos Store, which are snarled in fourth place.

Four more 200 games were bowled in the league last week. Wilson Graves, Trevose T.V., had a 224, tops for the night. Norman Moore of Hatboro came up with games of 211 and 205, and Max Ebinger of Mortimore checked in with a 201. To date 35 200-or-better games have been rolled during the 16 renewals of loop competition.

Dodgers and Braves Toughest Teams In NL, Says Pilot

PHILADELPHIA — INS — Manager Steve O'Neill of the Phillies thinks the Dodgers are still the club to beat this year in the National League pennant race.

Stopping off at the Phillies' office en route to a Wilmington, Del. sports writers' dinner, he added that "Milwaukee is going to be very tough too."

O'Neill was pleased with the recent acquisition of Murray Dickson, former Pirate knuckleballer, to improve the team's mound strength, but he admitted the Phils need a better bench, including a .300 hitting outfielder, in order to give the Dodgers a fight.

"We are still trying to swing a deal that might help," he explained, "but at the moment everything is static."

O'Neill said the team had made strong bids for Solly Hemus of St. Louis; Bobby Adams, of Cincinnati; Bob Hofman of the Giants; Ransom Jackson and Roy Smalley, of the Chicago Cubs.

O'Neill threw cold water on statements that Robin Roberts had been sent to the well too often last season. He said.

"Several times in the early part of the season he Roberts requested to pitch with two days rest but I wouldn't let him. I also didn't want him to pitch before the all-star game, but he insisted that three innings wouldn't hurt him."

WARRIORS-BULLDOGS; FALCONS-HOUNDS

Full Schedule Set in LBCL

Bristol High risks its perfect Lower Bucks County League record tonight at Morrisville, while Pennsbury plays host to surprising Southampton in co-features of a three-game league program.

The Warriors will be shooting for the fifth straight triumph in defense of their 1953 championship and will be strong favorites to pull it off. Pennsbury, disappointed after its close brush with Bristol but doubly determined, can gain a second place tie with Delhaas by stopping Southampton. But the Falcons risk tumbling into fourth place if they lose, for both teams enter with 2-1 marks.

The night's other attraction pits Neshaminy and Bensalem at Cornwells Heights.

There is reason to suspect that the Warriors may have some trouble in Morrisville despite the Bulldogs' unimpressive 1-4 record. It will be another struggle on a small court for the Tribe, which has shown a decided predilection for wide open spaces. And, too, Morrisville has never been particularly easy touch for Bristol teams.

The Bulldogs, operating under Coach Dick Lee for the first time this season, started badly. They lost to St. John't of Philadelphia, then dropped successive league bouts with Delhaas, Bensalem and Pennsbury. Then, when things looked blackest, the club stamped out a satisfying 61-42 decision over New Jersey School for the Deaf last Friday night.

The win was more or less expected, but what warmed Morrisville hearts was a 30-point third ffuarter burst that made a rout of the contest. It marked the first time this year that the Bulldog attack had reached its potential, If it reaches that peak again tonight, Morrisvillagers are saying, Bristol can be guaranteed an interesting evening.

Much will hinge on the Bulldogs' top four scorers, Arvie Powell, Don Habel, Frank Pesce and Charlie Garman. It will be up to them to neutralize the tremendous point power of Harold Loud, Dick Crosby and Phil Attardo.

Pennsbury, off its masterful showing at Bristol, rates a notch or two over Southampton tonight, but here again anything could happen. In Ray Rickli and Ray Croft, Southampton boasts two strong scorers. Croft is also an energetic rebounder who may give the Falcons a run for their money in that department.

Coach Don Henry is expected to start Jim MacMillan, Paul Giordano, Mike Baldovski, Dave Gerard and Guy Curtis, with somebody possibly giving way to Dave Draudt. The latter, a sophomore, has shown to advantage in recent games.

Bensalem's tall Owls, operating in their own gameroom, are figured as too much for Neshaminy to handle. Bensalem will be looking for its second win in five starts, while the Redskins are winless in three starts.

An interesting scoring duel could develop between Stan Covington of Neshaminy and the hosts' Bob Frantz, two of the loop's most effective big men. But the Tribe has no rebuttal for Bob Lake, Frantz' chief gunnery mate and the league's leading scorer.

Best Set

Senior Frank Manzo, used sparingly in Bristol High's string of ten victories this Winter, qualifies as the team's best setshooter and one of its finest passers. He may come in handy when the Warriors meet a determined Morrisville High team tonight at Morrisville.

BARONS SEEK AHL TIE IN SHOWDOWN

International News Service

Cleveland's Barons can knot up the American Hockey League race tonight when they battle the Syracuse Warriors in the only game scheduled.

The Barons currently are two points behind the front - running Buffalo Bisons, who have 56 points in the league standings. The Barons and the Bisons are scheduled to meet Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, Cleveland's Eddie Olson and Jack Gordon are making an assault on the scoring lead held by George Sullivan of Hershey who has 62 points. Olson and Gordon each have 59 points.

Harry Pidhirny of Syracuse is the leading goal-scorer with 29 and Jacques Plante of Buffalo leads the goal tenders with a 2.82 mark.

FRANKLIN BOMBER

It's Mike by 32 In LBCAC Race

Mike Facciolli, who mans the trigger most frequently for Franklin AC's league-leading sharpshooters, is still comfortably out front in the race for the Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference's individual scoring title.

Facciolli has boosted his production to 107 field goals and 23 free throws for a 237-point total in ten games. His 23.7 average also tops the conference with room to spare.

There is no indication, however, that it will be a landslide in Mike's favor. Bensalem's silent gunner, on Eliott, has passed the 200 mark by five stripes in his ten games and is coming along briskly in the race despite a tapering off in recent games. Elliott is the league's leading foul throw converter with 65 and has added 70 field goals for 205 points.

Others with a chance to catch the leaders include Andy Accardi, who meshed 68 points in his last three games to climb into third place. The Kaiser ace has 68 field goals and 26 fouls and boasts a 35-point effort against Franklin as his best one-game figure.

One-game honors are still held by Walt Zook of Rohm and Haas, who had 44 in an outing against Bensalem, but has drifted into fifth place behind Franklin's Joe Maiorello in the seasonal race. Zook has 156 points, Maiorello 158. The other Rohm and Haas standouts, Bill Butz and Toby Oriola, joined the top ten this week ,as did Bob Strobele of Franklin and Levittown's top duo of Stew Tomkins and Bill Hughes.

Cleveland Figures To Finish First In American--Lopez

CLEVELAND — INS—Cleveland Indians Manager Al Lopez says the Tribe will be a lot better in 1954 than it was last year and "is figuring on finishing first" in the American League pennant race.

The mild—mannered Cleveland pilot spoke Monday night at the annual Cleveland Baseball Writers' "Ribs and Roasts" dinner at which Al Rosen was honored as the baseball "Man of the Year."

The slugging third sacker, who became a father for the first time earlier in the day when his wife, Terry, gave birth to a seven pound three-ounce boy, was unanimously named the American League's most valuable player for 1953.

Lopez, who along with General Manager Hank Greenberg said the club will be better, "I don't know whether the Yankees will fold but we realize they're tough.

"But we'll be a lot better than we were last year. We are figuring on finishing first."

NOVOGRATZ, MORAVIAN ACE, SIGNED BY BIRDS

PHILADELPHIA — INS — The Philadelphia Eagles today announced the signing of Edward R. Novogratz, end from Bethlehem, Pa. as a free agent for the 1954 football season.

Vince McNally, general manager of the Eagles, also said Cleo Wallace, guard with the Bolling Air Force eleven last season, will play with the Quaker City professional gridders.

Novogratz starred on the Northampton High School team and the Moravian College squad before reporting to the Detroit Lions for a try-out last year. He also played basketball and baseball for the high school and collegiate teams.

GIL'S DRILLS CONTINUES, DESPITE COLD WEATHER

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— Boxing Promoter Herman Taylor reported today that the cold weather which has gripped Pennsylvania for the past several days has not stopped middleweight Gil Turner from his training routine.

Taylor said the Germantown puncher has jogged three miles daily in Philadelphia's Fairmount Park despite the near-zero temperatures.

Turner is matched against Pierre Langlois at the Arena Jan. 26.

Barney's Bowlers Take Slight Lead In Industrial Loop

Barney's Service edged into first place in the Bristol Industrial bowling league last week just a few days before the close of the first half.

Service supplanted Badenhausen in the saddle by rolling a 2-2 tie with J. Kut and Sons while the erstwhile leaders were taking a surprise shellacking from cellar-dwelling Breslin and Conn. Service moves into this final week of the first round with a margin of a half-game over Badenhausen.

Meanwhile, Deon's Beverages out-bowled Fifth Ward, 3-1, to keep alive its outside chance for a first round championship. Deon is in third place, three and a half games off the pace and will need a sweep, coupled with shutouts to the leaders if it is to figure.

Waldron of Badenhausen rolled a 225 for top single game honors last week, while Bristol Recreation's Fraser had the best three games with 582 pins.

ALUMNI TEAM GRANTED GYMNASIUM PRIVILEGES

Mrs. George Mueller, secretary of the Bensalem Township Alumni Association, announced today that the alumni basketball team has been given permission to use the gymnasium on Wednesday nights after 9:30, when the high school varsity team finishes its practice.

Pennsbury "Find"

Big Guy Curtis, who starred with Neshaminy High's Lower Bucks County League championship baseball team last Spring, then transferred to Pennsbury in time to play football, is working toward a third varsity letter now with the Falcon hoopsters. Curtis opepned the season as a mere sub, but has claimed a starting role on the strength of his trained one-hand pushshot and good rebounding strength. He's a senior at PHS.

Undefeated BJHS Notches 22nd Win

Bristol Junior High continued its scoring rampage yesterday by walloping Neshaminy Junior High, 62-27, on the Bristol court. It was the fourth consecutive win of the 1954 campaign for the Junior Tribesmen, their third league conquest, and 22nd straight win over a three-year span.

The Junior Warriors had an easy time from the start, scoring 16 points in the first three minutes of play. At this stage, Coach Chic D'Angelo yanked his first-string lineup and started sending in his reserves.

The game was closer in the second period with Bristol out-scoring its ofe, 7-6. In the third session, D'Angelo again started his first-stringers and the game went out of proportions so much that for practically the remainder of the game, Bristol was using the third team.

The one-sided game caused the average of Bobby Liberatore, ace scorer to drop. Bobby played about six minutes in the entire tilt as D'Angelo cleared his bench of 17 players. In the six minutes, Liberatore post 11 points. Ed Jones, who played about as much as Liberatore, had 8 points.

For Neshaminy, Al Tregembo tabbed 8 points on four field goals, all scored during the second half.

KMP Takes Steps To Cut Danger Of Factory Fires

Two major steps are being taken by Kaiser Metal Productions, Bristol, to lessen the possibility of a disastorous fire in its plants.

Construction of a 300,000 gallon water tank, to be started within three weeks, will be built in back of the plant's Canberra building. The water tank will provide additional water in case of fire, and is equipped with a 1,500 gallon-per-minute pump. The unit will be connected to existing mains leading to fire hydrants and hose stations. The tank, to be completed by mid-summer, is the third source of water for the plants' use. The other two are Bristol Borough water system, and an auxiliary pumping unit from the Delaware River.

The other major step in fire prevention taken by KMP is the organization of fire brigades. Teams of trained men ready to meet emergencies at a moment's notice are being organized on all shifts. The men will be instructed in the use of all types of fire fighting equipment at weekly training sessions. Each brigade will be made up of from 10 to 15 men.

YARDLEY CIVIC CLUB OFFERS 'MARCH' HELP

The Yardley Junior Civic Club today offered to co-operate in the Mothers' March on Polio drive from 7 to 8 p. m. on Jan. 26.

Mrs. Harold Hershberger and Mrs. Claire Repogle are in charge of the campaign. Assisting as district captains are Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Mrs. Horace Hoffman, Mrs. William Kinney, Jr., and Mrs. Earnest Bechtel.

VISIT OF BLOODMOBILE IS RED CROSS TOPIC

The visit of the bloodmobile to Paterson Parchment Paper Company on Tuesday, Jan. 26 and the March fund drive are two items of business scheduled for discussion at this afternoon's meeting of the Bristol district of the American Red Cross.

The group was scheduled to meet at 2:30 p. m. at the Red Cross headquarters, 435 Radcliffe street.

NESHAMINY DISTRICT

Stanley Howell, Langhorne, former music director at Neshaminy Jr.-Sr. high school, is now assisting principal, James Darbie, Langhorne, in such matters as attendance, minor discipline cases, obtaining substitute teachers, conferring with representatives of publishing companies and conducting special guests on tours of the building.

He will continue to direct the school band.

The Neshaminy Jr.-Sr. high school has already begun to feel the effects of the housing developments in the Feasterville area recently reported Dr. Oliver Heckman, regional superintendent. Since the 4th of January, 12 new pupils have enrolled with no compensating dropouts.

"This trend is bound to continue," commented Dr. Heckman. "With 100 homes already completed and 200 more on the way, the school district must make plans for the new students."

Roy Cleaver, a school transportation and consolidation advisor from the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, will visit the site of the proposed 20-room elementary school in Lower Southampton on January 14th to approve it.

A clinic of school administrators and college experts will discuss and make suggestions on the preliminary drawings of the proposed Neshaminy Jr. High during the first week of February.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter

Farm Extension Assn. Will Elect At Tuesday Caucus

The annual meeting of the Bucks County Agricultural Extension Association is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 26, at Tyro Hall Grange, Buckingham.

Election of officers will be held at the 10 a. m. opening session and will be followed by a report on the past year's work. The 4-H awards will be presented by Leroy Shutt, master of the Lower Bucks County Pamona Grange. Leader awards will be presented by Stanley Landis, president of the 4-H Council.

Amos Kirby, farm editor of Station WCAU, Philadelphia, will address the group. P. L. Edinger, assistant director of agricultural extension, Pennsylvania State University will also speak.

A roast pork dinner will be served at 12:15 p. m. After-dinner music will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Averre, Yardley. Myles E. Starner, of Aspers, International Farm Youth representative to Mexico, will give an illustrated talk.

Thomas Brown, assistant to the general manager of Fairless Works, will speak on "Big Industry and Bucks County." The meeting will adjourn at 3 p. m.

COMMENT

SANTA FE, N.M.,(INS)—A letter to the editor of the Santa Fe New Mexican suggested congressmen should not be paid the same salary but according to ability. Commented an editorial note from the editor: "Might be a way to reduce the national debt."

Back Wright Field For Air Training

WASHINGTON, (INS) — Two Ohio congressmen have introduced bills to locate the West Point of the Air near Wright-Patterson air base at Dayton, O.

The legislators said the proposed air academy should be near Wright Patterson to take advantage of the advanced facilities already there, the tremendous amount of research going on, and the scientists who would be available as instructors.

Rep. Brown and Shenck pointed out that the base is already the headquarters of the Air Materiel Command and the Air Force Institute of Technology.

They countered proponents of a southern site who say location in the south would guarantee year-round flying weather. American pilots, they said, should learn how to fly in all sorts of weather.

Fears U. S. Return Of 61 Dope Addicts

INDIANAPOLIS, (INS) — Rep. Charles B. Brownson, (R), Indiana, warned today that there may be a crime wave when American soldiers who have become dope addicts return to this country from the Far East.

Brownson is chairman of the House Subcommittee on International Relations which visited Japan and Korea to probe the narcotics problem.

A day's supply of heroin costs only $2 in Japan, while in this country, the cost is $40 to $50 a day, according to Brownson, who added:

ST. MARY'S HALL SENDS GROUP TO LEVITTOWN

A group of students from St. Mary's Hall in Burlington, N. J., will visit Levittown today. The tour is a part of the school's "History Where it Happens" program which was inaugurated last fall.

M. E. Biederman will address the group, and then take them to various points of interest.

Mrs. Scott, executive secretary at St. Mary's Hall, said 30 students from the Levittown area are now attending the school.

BACK TO CAMP

Robert Geayer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Geayer, Sr., 37 Greenbrook drive, Levittown, will report back to Camp Kilmer, New Brunswick, N. J., tonight from here he will be transferred to Berlin, Germany.

Shelves often may be as attractive as a picture for use in an important wall space. Providing, of course, they are made with good lines and proportions. When such shelves are arranged with flowers, figurines or small objects that one likes to collect, they bring a room to life with color and interest. On today's pattern there is an even dozen designs that may be used in either modern or period rooms. The lines to follow in sawing out the pieces are traced directly onto the wood. The interlocking style of joints makes assembling easy, as no brads or screws are used. A copy of this pattern will be mailed for 25c. It is also included in the Living Room Packet at price of $1.

Freedom a Film Right, Supreme Court Rules

WASHINGTON—Supreme Court rulings left little more than "obscurity' today as ground for censorship of motion pictures.

The high tribunal struck another blow at state regulation of film exhibitors Monday with a unanimous ruling that finding a picture "immoral" or "tending to increase crime" is not sufficient to justify a ban.

It had previously held that a movie could not be barred from public showing as "sacrilegious."

No Constitutional Rule

The court has also made it clear that it has not ruled on the question of whether censorship, even on grounds of obscenity, is constitutional.

A one-line order lifted bans in New York against the French motion picture, "La Ronde," and in Ohio against a film "M."

It was accompanied by written opinions of Justice William O. Douglas and Hugo L. Black, who held that no form of peacetime censorship could be justified under the constitution.

"Right of Freedom"

Douglas and Black said they believed that "every writer, actor or producer, no matter what medium of expression he may use, should be freed from the censor."

Majority decisions, however, have left open a possibility that the high court might allow an exception to the "free speech" rule and permit censorship if a film was found objectionable by unanimous or near-unanimous consent.

Attorneys had argued that the picture "M," which Ohio censors said would increase crime, and "La Ronde," labeled immoral but not indecent in New York, had both been passed by many censorship boards and were shown widely throughout the country.

Six states and some 50 cities have censorship laws. New York, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kansas are the states which provide for censorship of moving pictures.

Men Carry Plenty Of Junk (It's Fact)

HENDERSON, Ky., (INS) — Men may talk about the stuff women carry around in their handbags, but these same men carry everything in their side pockets except an eight ball.

Just what men do stuff into their pockets was made the object of a special survey by Trudy Star, housewares expert at the Tri-State Plastic Molding Co. of Henderson.

She says the survey disclosed most men lug around just as much "junk" as women. According to the survey, most men jam from 15 to 30 different items into their pockets, including such things as loose change, cigarettes, matches, keys, good luck charms, pens, pencils, aspirin, chewing gum, nail clippers, files, knives, wallets, handkerchiefs, memo pads, combs and commuter tickets.

The first commercial installation of ball bearings was made October 30, 1794, on the weathervane topping the steeple of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity, at Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Easy-To-Make 'Fireproofing'

AUBURN, Ala.—(INS)—A simple "solution" to cut down on fire losses, injuries and death has been offered by Stella Mitchell, Auburn home management specialist.

Miss Mitchell said that a solution made by adding six ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid to two quarts of water effectively fireproofs children's clothes and inflammable household fabrics. She explained:

"After stirring the solution until it's clear, dip articles into the mixture, squeeze them through the clothes wringer or wring by hand, and hang them up to dry."

After drying, the specialist continued, use scraps of the fabric to test for fire resistance.

"If the test is not satisfactory, repeat the treatment until the fabric absorbs enough fire-proofing solution."

Says Age Is State of mind

RALEIGH, N. C.—INS—Age is a state of mind.

So says North Carolina State College's family relations specialist, Corinne Grimsley.

She maintained:

"Just because you're 51 or 52 years old doesn't necessarily mean that you are getting old.

"As a matter of fact, your age really isn't a question of the number of birthdays you've had but rather something determined by your state of mind."

Just what does old mean?

"When being old is defined as being tired, crab and futile," continued the specialist, "none of us wants to grow old."

But, Miss Grimsley pointed out:

"These traits do not belong exclusively to old age."

She asked:

"How many young people have you seen — people who are still in their 20's who are completely bored with themselves and life in general?"

Good Cookware Has a Flat Base

NEW YORK, (INS) — When you purchase cookware, select a vessel which has a flat base, straight sides, and a cover which fits precisely on the rim of the pan. These combined features will allow a quick, even spread of heat, and retain heat inside the vessel.

This is the advice of Inez Compton, home economist for Townecraft Industries, Inc.

Miss Compton points out that food retains a maximum of its natural value and flavor when it is cooked in the shortest possible time. Cooking time is cut down when food is surrounded at the bottom, sides and top by heat of an even temperature. A vessel with a flat base permits an even application of heat to the entire bottom layer of food; straight sides prevent uneven temperatures or "hot spots" within the vessel; a tight fitting cover will help cook the top layer of food by keeping steam from escaping.

When heat and moisture are retained within the vessel, food can be cooked at low temperatures in a minimum of water. Foods cooked in this manner will retain more of their natural vitamins and minerals because these nutrients are not boiled away.

FINE TO LEAVE FRIDAY FOR 2-WEEK VACATION

HARRISBURG, (INS) — Gov. John S. Fine will leave Friday for a two-week vacation. He will attend a session of the Governor's Conference at Atlanta, Ga., Saturday and then go to Florida for one week. Fine will then go to California for another week.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Borough Water Committee at a meeting thereof to be held at the Borough Hall, Bristol, Bucks County, Penna., Feb. 4, 1954 at 8:00 o'clock P. M., E.S.T., will receive, open and consider bids or proposals for construction and installation complete, of a Concrete Foundations for a Steel Tower and Tank, including the furnishing of all labor and materials; in accordance with Specifications dated January, 1954, heretofore adopted by the Council and on file at the Borough Secretary's office.

Each bid or proposal must be in the form provided by the Borough Council, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and addressed "To the Chairman and Members of the Borough Water Committee, Borough Hall, Bristol, Penna." and must be marked on the outside with the words "Bid for Elevated Steel Water Tank" or other words indicating the enclosure of such bid; and must be accompanied by a certified check on an incorporated bank or trust company drawn to the order of "The Borough Treasurer of Bristol, Penna." or Surety Company's Bid Bond in the amount of five (5) per centum of the bid rendered.

The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned within thirty (30) days after bids are opened, and the check of the bidder to whom the Contract is awarded will be held to secure the Borough against any loss that may be sustained by it in the event that proper contract and bond should not be executed in accordance with the Specifications.

Information may be obtained and Specifications and Form for Proposal may be examined at the office of the Borough Secretary, Borough Hall, Bristol, Penna. and in the office of the Engineer. Copies of Specifications, Form for Proposal and full information relative to the work, may be obtained at the office of William H. Boardman, Engineer, 426 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 6, Penna.

The Borough Council reserves the right to accept any bid, reject all bids, to reject any bid or bids not complying with this notice and the specifications and to waive any informalities in any Bids or proposals if deemed advantageous to the Borough Council to do so.

By order of the Borough Council,
AGNES F. COLES
Secretary
Bristol, Penna.

IF YOU NOTICE tiny crinkles around your eyes, get to work in this area. Apply a special eye cream that will keep skin smooth.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WISE women watch their faces carefully for signs that all may not be well with their complexion and facial contour.

These watchers may discover tiny crinkles around the eyes; they can come early, especially if vision is not normal. They may suspect that the smooth surface of the throat has become a bit soft or crepe-like. Then, with a determined lift of the chin and a sharp gleam in the eye, they set out to forestall grievances that may be budding.

Applying Creams

They do not leave all the work to the creams and lotions, knowing that cosmetics should not just be applied to the skin, but should be worked in with the fingertips. This is especially necessary when applying oily cosmetics to the face and neck.

When applying an emollient to your neck, fold your fingers in the palms of your hands, and use your knuckles. Start kneading at the line of the collarbones, working upward. Throw your head back, but don't have the muscles tense. Turn your head to the right, treat the left side of the neck; then the other way about.

There is a simple exercise that will help: Open your mouth wide, throw the head back, then close your mouth and back to first position. These movements are likely to keep a second chin from forming, in case you are inclined to take on adipose tissue.

If there is a tired droop of the muscles at the sides of the face "huff and puff." Fill your cheeks with air then try to blow it out through tightly closed lips. This is a help to the girl with hollow cheeks, too.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

O Q J F  P Z Z  R N K Q  M J C V  G Z P Q  L X B J
G J Y Z P X Z F,  V Z Y J  X U  F Z P  V Z Y J,  I N P
U N E J B U P X P X Z F — K Z B I J P.

Be Firm with Tot at Bedtime

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE healthy infant, under one or two years of age, who has been put to bed at a consistently regular time, may go to bed happily. But there comes the time when he loathes to go to bed, contrives all sorts of means for lingering, or bitterly resists going. It's usually wise then to try to win his cooperation even at the cost of a later bedtime hour.

Yet he can be so clever at inventing novel ways to stay up longer that it may be necessary at times to be decisive, adhering to a rather rigid clock schedule. Anyway, he comes to have more regard for the clock than for the parent's decision without the aid of the clock.

Spanking Unnecessary

It hardly becomes necessary to spank the tot to make him go to bed. If you can't win his compliance, just pick him up and carry him to bed.

But suppose that after you have tucked him in and returned to another room, he begins a series of measures for bringing you back to him. He may keep calling you back every five or ten minutes for the next hour or two, causing you considerable annoyance and keeping him awake.

Leave Door Ajar

He may feel lonely or afraid. If you suspect the latter, leave his door ajar with a dim light outside it, and assure him you are within easy hearing distance. Now and then, walk by his door as if on an errand, making sounds he will recognize as from you, to reassure him.

After tucking him in bed, going through the usual bedtime ritual, and asking him if there is anything else he wants, tell him you are going and won't return (unless there is a real emergency). Don't tell him not to call. Just compel yourself to keep your word.

"When all other helpers fail and comforts flee," he may want to go to the toilet. Be reasonable, but after one or two such trips, end them, even at the risk of an accident.

Staying Put

If the youngster climbs out of his crib and comes to you, then you have the problem of training him to stay where put, of teaching him the meaning of No. Perhaps you should not attack this bedtime problem until he has learned through physical pain, consistently applied, the meaning of No, while up and about the house by day.

While it may be simple to herd several little children off to bed at the same time, it hardly is wise to prolong this practice. The older ones of the group, especially the eldest, should be allowed to stay up later than the rest, in recognition of his grownupness. Even with only two children, a few years apart, allowance for age-difference can reduce jealousy and promote emotional security in the older one.

ELIZABETH WOODWARD SAYS:

Does Love Thrive Only at Midnight?

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I've always been shy around boys and I'd had only a few dates until a month ago when I met Frank and started going steady with him. My parents are very strict and insist that we must be home by 10 o'clock. Frank doesn't like this and I'm afraid it will break up our going together. I'm very worried. Please help me!"

Frank should be the first one to recognize the fact that a girl has to learn to walk before she can run! He should have found out by this time that you've always been pretty shy and that you haven't dated much before he came along. Naturally that means your parents haven't had much experience with your dating, either. All of your family has to get used to the idea.

And he ought to be wise enough to realize that getting used to your going out with him will give not only you but your parents more confidence.

There being two sides to a story always, why not tell him yours? The next time he seems impatient with the fact that he must get you home at an hour that seems too early to him, spill out your side of things with all frankness. Keep your emotions out of it—just talk the thing over reasonably. That extra hour at night isn't important enough to be unhappy about right now. Not when it may be secured for special events by special permission when you've been going together a little longer. Not when time passes so fast that with your next birthday it may be considered a normal thing.

If that hour means more to Frank than you do—so be it. You can thank him for the start he has given you—and keep merrily going your own way.

You're A Big Girl Now!

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I'm 19 and I enjoy going out—so every Saturday night my girl friend and I go to a dance. We could spend our lives dancing! But my mother doesn't understand that. Nowadays dance usually start at nine and end at one. We haven't much of a selection of dance halls in our neighborhood so we can't be choosey.

"But my real problem is my mother — she worries. Young couples usually go some place to eat after a dance and naturally it's late when they get home. But if I have an escort to see me home, she expects me to come straight home. And if I don't have an escort I walk home to my girl friend's with her and stay there overnight. Mother has fits over our walking home alone. What to do? Mother has built up such a distrust of men in me that I don't enjoy going out any more!"

Basically I don't think your mother likes you going to those dance halls with your girl friend. You go stag, count on meeting boys to dance with, count on meeting up with somebody who will escort you home. In any case you're staying out late, wandering around with another girl. She doesn't like any part of it. It sounds pretty unorganized to me, too. At 19 you ought to have real dates.

But if you must go stag while you trail the boys, your pride and your sense of the fitness of things should get you home earlier than 1:30 A. M.!

YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . . . by Stella

TUESDAY, JANUARY 19—Born today, your quiet reserve at all times, even under the stress and strain or a crisis, is something which others find most helpful. You usually think carefully before you act so that when you start you know exactly where you are going and head straight in the right direction. But there is, unfortunately, a tendency toward emotional imbalance which you must recognize and learn to control before you can accomplish all the things you most desire.

You have a vivid imagination and a sense of drama which should be utilized in writing of some kind. You are a true student of the fine arts and consider yourself something of a critic. Actually, you permit your own ideas to influence your critical senses a great deal and consequently will probably do better in one of the creative professions, rather than as a professional critic!

Although truly loving and affectionate, you are not one to make a show of your true feeling and only those closest to you will know how deep and constant you are. You will make a good marriage partner, for your loyalties are constant and you enjoy a happy home life and rarely want to go "out on the town" for a change of scene. If, however, your domestic life is upset, you might suffer a reversal in your nature and become frustrated and gloomy. Avoid over-indulgence of all kinds.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Wednesday, January 20

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Make all use of your natural creative ability, but try to be as practical as possible in the execution.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Opportunities aren't handed out on silver platters all the time. Sometimes you have to look for them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Keep an eye to the future and make long term plans, but do your day's work competently, as well.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — If you have any spare time, plot out your future work, for the rest of the entire year, perhaps.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — If there is more confusion than usual, keep your head and act calmly for best results.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — If you have not been answering letters as you should, catch up on your correspondence today if you can.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Be on guard against making careless errors in your routine work. The most minute detail is important.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — A valuable friendship may be offered you today. Take full advantage of it now — for a lifetime, probably.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — If your ideas are a little hazy, talk them over with an experienced consultant; follow good advice.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Get your work done during office hours and you will have an opportunity for social relaxation tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Take good look at your job potential and you may see a chance to improve your status where you work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Work hard for whatever you want and you may find that you are achieving your heart's desire.

State Discloses Turnpike Route Into Coal Region

Extension Will Cut Across To Scranton Suburb

HARRISBURG — (INS) — The exact route of the Norristown-Scranton extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike was pinned down today for engineers who are scheduled to break ground late in February on the 200 million dollar project.

Gov. John S. Fine, State Highways Secretary E. L. Schmidt and the Turnpike Commission disclosed the route of the expressway into the hard coal region late Monday.

The governor predicted a quick sale for the bonds to be sold to underwrite construction. The bonds will be amortized with tolls.

Near Norristown

The route will run from Plymouth Meeting, near Norristown on the Delaware River extension, northwest to Moosic on the outskirts of Scranton via the Allentown-Bethlehem area.

Along the way, the 100-mile superhighway will run near the following communities, Kulpsville and Tylersport in Montgomery county; Milford Square in Bucks county; Vera Cruz, Wescosville, Schnecksville and Emerald in Lehigh county; Three O'Clock Spring, Albrightsville and White Haven in Carbon county; Penn Lake, Laurel Run, Laflin and DuPont in Luzerne county.

Total of 460 Miles

Completion of the Delaware and northeast extensions, the commission pointed out, will bring total turnpike mileage to 460.

The PTC pegged its bond sale on the expectation that the northeast extension will cost approximately two million dollars a mile to build.

The 33-mile long Delaware River extension, which ultimately will link the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes via a bridge over the Delaware River, will cost about 65 million dollars when completed next fall, according to the PTC.

Sale of bonds for the northeast project, the PTC said, is "routine."

The locations of interchanges along the 100-mile route have not been decided.

Sheriff Promotes Dorothy Bethel To Post As Deputy

DOYLESTOWN — Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite during a session of argument court administered the oath of office of deputy sheriff of Bucks County to Miss Dorothy H. Bethel, 200 North Clinton street.

Miss Bethel, who has been employed in the Sheriff's Office for two years, assumes the post held by former Deputy Pearl H. Smith, Decatur street. Deputy Smith resigned Jan. 1 after serving for more than a quarter of a century.

A resident of Doylestown for six years, Miss Bethel graduated from Hatboro High School and was employed in Jenkintown by a motor agency prior to being employed in the courthouse.

Mrs. Mary K. Spooner, Line Lexington, has been appointed clerk to replace Miss Bethel in administrative dates.

Sheriff C. LeRoy Murray, Warrington, and his official personnel include the following:

Chief Deputy Sheriff William B. Lang, 106 S. Chancellor street, Newtown; Deputies Mellis R. Meyers, Quakertown, former Pennsylvania State Liquor Control Board Officer; Lovedon G. Harrison, Newtown township, and Charles F. O'Brien, Penndel.

Watson To Speak To L'Town Lions

State Senator Edward B. Watson will be guest speaker at the Charter Night dinner-dance of the Levittown Lions club, Daniel J. Miller, president, announced today.

The club's official incorporation will be Saturday, Feb. 6 at Holliday Inn. Formal presentation of the charter will be made by the Lions International District Governor, Peter A. Lucente, of Glenside. Tickets may be obtained from Dr. Marvin Radoff, chairman of the Charter Night committee.

Both Senator Watson and his wife will attend.

L'Town Jaycees O. K. Constitution

The constitution of the Levittown Junior Chamber of Commerce was ratified by the group last night, and three committees for the coming year were formed.

The committees and their chairmen are: Youth Activities, Robert Goldsmith, chairman; Safety Committee, Albert Trautwean, chairman, and Public Affairs and Public Health Committee, Dr. Alvin Arzt, chairman.

The next meeting of the chamber will be Tuesday, Feb. 2.

A Major Promotion

A PROMOTION TO THE RANK OF MAJOR in the reserves has been awarded to Capt. John J. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Cole, 230 Washington street. The promotion will appply to the permanent Army at a future date. Holding the government citation which grants the promotion is Capt. Cole's father — he's proud of his son! Capt. Cole touched off the current Lower Bucks County Korean clothing and food drive with a letter describing conditions in Korea.

Problems of Money Plus Candidates Harass Democrats

HARRISBURG—(INS)—Democratic slatemakers planning to meet soon to discuss candidates for governor and other state offices are faced today with dissension in party ranks.

Genevieve Blatt, secretary of the Democratic State Committee, has not fixed the exact date for the pow-wow pending suggestions from the party's high command.

The date, however, will be well in advance of Feb. 23 which will be the first legal date to circulate nominating petitions.

Candidates will also be discussed for lieutenant governor, internal affairs secretary and one of three superior court posts to be filled this year.

Endorse Rhodes, Ross

Democrats will endorse for re-election President Judge Chester M. Rhodes and Judge F. Clair Ross. Republicans may go along with the re-election of the two jurists in line with their principle of supporting "Sitting Judges."

The powerful policy committee run by National Committeeman David L. Lawrence will produce the slate after testing sentiment among county leaders. Sentiment for the gubernatorial candidate has not jelled.

The Democrats' problem this year is three-fold.

Must Find Cash

The party's high command must slate candidates, find a source of campaign cash to replenish dwindling coffers and seek a solution to the snarls in the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia organizations.

The two big city vote blocs are counted on by leaders to produce sizeable margins for slated candidates in the May 18 primary if harmony prevails.

Pittsburgh Democrats are wrangling over a wage tax proposed by Lawrence in his role as mayor.

Split Over Clark Rule

Philadelphia Democrats are split over the "no politics" ultimatum of Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr. The so-called organization ward leaders have been upset for some time because Clark refuses to turn patronage over to them lock, stock and barrel.

As campaign war chests are swelled by contributions from the two cities the fighting could prove disastrous in a major election year.

The State Committee is short on money rations. Its publicity director, Patrick McLaughlin, was dropped from the payroll because of dwindling funds. Clark has promised him a job as deputy city representative.

Free Realty Man From Kidnapers

Abductors Are Seized In Coup

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — A prominent San Francisco real estate man was rescued unharmed early today from kidnapers who had demanded $300,000 ransom — scaled down from an original $500,000 — and both of his abductors were captured in a swift, brilliant coup by police.

The tracing of a telephoned ransom call led police first to one of the abductors and then to a mission district house where they found and rescued the kidnaped man, Leonard Moskovitz, 36, and seized the second suspected kidnaper.

The two arrested men were identified as Harold Jackson and Joe Lear, both of Sacramento, Calif., and both described by authorities as former private investigators.

They failed to collect any of the huge ransom they had demanded in three letters threatening to torture, horribly mutilate and finally kill Moskovitz if the money were not paid and if police were notified.

Despite his long ordeal, Moskovitz showed no evidences of physical mistreatment when he was saved from the hands of his kidnapers.

He and his twin brother, Alfred, operate a prosperous real estate firm founded by their father, Maurice Moskovitz, San Francisco civic leader and nationally known in the Democratic party.

Sisterhood Meets, Slates Two Events

Two coming events were planned by the Levittown Jewish Center Sisterhood last night at a meeting in Edgely Fire House. One hundred members attended with Mrs. Florence Kopstein presiding.

A card party for Sisterhood members and their husbands will be held in the fire house Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m., Jan. 26. On a committee planning the card party are Mrs. Bea Bodner, chairman, Mrs. Dorothyy Brofman, co-chairman, Mrs. Selma Lindenbaum and Mrs. Rhoda Glassman.

A paid-up membership dessert party will be held by the group Feb. 23 in the Stacy-Trent Hotel, Trenton, N. J., at 8:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Bernice Stein and Mrs. Korine Goldberg, co-chairmen of the membership committee.

DEPUTY CHIEFS

William Downing and Walt Garrison were elected first and second deputy chiefs, respectively, of the Bristol Consolidated Fire Company last night, by members of the company.

Women Uncover Many Articles For Korea Drive

Attics Cleared, Food Purchased To Help Campaign

A mother and daughter got together today, cleared out their attics of children's and adult clothing, purchased non-perishable food, bought large quantities of needles and thread—and donated all of it to the Lower Bucks County Korean clothing and food drive.

Mrs. Joseph McLean, Bath road, Bristol, and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Wiese, Cedar avenue, West Bristol, filled eight cartons with their generous donations today, Arthur Pilla, chairman of the drive, announced.

Mrs. McLean, whose family knows Capt. John J. Cole, stationed in Korea, the originator of the drive, claims she and her daughter have done "nothing special."

Something "Special"

But according to Pilla, they have done more than something "special." Not only did the women carefully sort and pack the clothing and food, label the contents, and then donate it to the drive, but the generosity and good wishes with which they gave made their contributions "special," Pilla feels.

Mrs. McLean said that she has listened to appeals for the Koreans many times on the radio, and has always wanted to help in some way.

"Then, when I read about the drive in Lower Bucks County in the paper, I knew the opportunity had come.

Things Usable

"My daughter has two children," she explained, "and we've always had some things around that are usable, though not brand new, and we decided to donate them. We decided to give all we could, not only because of Capt. Cole's personal appeal for donations, but because we knew how bad conditions are in Korea."

District chairmen, reporting to Pilla, stated today that "things are rolling along" in their area, and that contributions are coming in every day.

The general chairman reported that every Boy Scout troop in Lower Bucks County, under the leadership of their scoutmasters, is going to participate in the door-to-door drive for food and clothing Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m. The boys will be in uniform.

List of Needs

Pilla said chairmen in local communities are making a special effort to get these items for the Koreans; non-perishable foods, such as liquid baby vitamins, cereals, dried fruits and dried foods; adult clothing, underclothing, shoes, hose, baby diapers, layettes, baby clothing and children's clothing; and such miscellaneous items as blankets, CARE packages, hand tools, and baby bottles with nipples.

Donations should be taken to local collection centers, or prepared for collection by the scouts on Saturday. All contributions will be taken to Tommy's luncheonette, Farragut avenue, Bristol, the central storage place. From there they will be taken to the Frankford Arsenal and shipped to Korea.

Area collection centers are: Bristol, Tommy's; Newtown, the Memorial Building, 110 South State street; Fairless Hills, the Danherst Corporation, 241 Oxford Valley road; Levittown, W. T. Grant's, Levittown Shopping Center; Newportville, the Newportville General Store; Langhorne, the Langhorne Community House; Hulmeville, the Hulmeville Fire House; Yardley, the Yardley Community House; Southampton, Carmen's Barber Shop; Tullytown, Silvi's store; Fallsington, the Fallsington Manufacturing Company; Fergusonville, Smitty's Garage; Morrisville, United Cut Rate Drug Company; Penndel, Penndel Builders Supply Company; Croydon, 617 State street; Bensalem, States Trucking.

JAMES WILSON CAPTURED

FBI Scratches One More Name From Its List of Most Wanted Men

CHICAGO —(INS)— The Federal Bureau of Investigation today scratched the name of Franklin James Wilson, 52, off its list of "Ten Most Wanted" criminals.

FBI agents, acting on a tip from an informant who recognized Wilson through a photograph distributed to newspapers, captured the fugitive in a Southside Chicago hotel.

Wilson, sought on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery, was placed on the "most wanted" list last November.

The six-foot, 210-pound fugitive surrendered meekly when agents burst into his room in the Lenox hotel.

Kline Weatherford, FBI agent in charge of the Chicago office, reported that Wilson readily admitted his identity.

He said Wilson had been staying at the hotel for more than three weeks and had supported himself by doing odd jobs.

Wilson will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley today.

The FBI then will turn Wilson over to Chicago police who have sought him since he jumped bail in 1951 following his arrest in a sensational attempt to rob the home of Walter Wolfner, wealthy owner of the Chicago Cardinals professional football team.

Wilson has a criminal record dating back to 1922 and has served time in penitentiaries.

Helping Hands Drive Away Fears of Displaced Family

ers she was fearful when her ailing son was taken from her and carried away in the squad ambulance, that she thought she would never see him again.

The Emergency Squad received so many offers of help for the Udeokas, that the members will return today. Other trips are probable. Once the Udeokas are fully outfitted with life's necessities, they say, they will help other displaced persons in Magnolia Gardens in a similar plight.

Swamped with Calls

Meanwhile, Miss Loretta Palermo, of the BRISTOL DAILY COURIER office staff, who discovered the family when Georgie was stricken with illness ten days ago, got so many telephone calls from generous readers last night, that she had to forego a meeting of the Lower Bucks County Hospital Women's Auxiliary. The auxiliary, however, with Mrs. Alfred E. Lewis presiding, joined in aiding the family.

Mrs. Bettie Gough, member of the Bristol Township Civic Association executive board, told Miss Palermo she had contacted a dozen merchants on Bristol's Mill street, and received pledges of curtains, linoleum, venetian blinds, shoes, trousers, dresses and clothing for Georgie. William Downing, of the Bristol squad, will deliver the goods to Magnolia Gardens by truck today.

The Catholic Daughters of America, Bristol Branch, through Mrs. Margaret Murphy, grand regent, sent the Emergency Squad $10 worth of groceries for the Udeokas. Samuel Dell, of the Fairless Hills Civic Association, is sending the squad a check while Mrs. Walter Pitzonka, of Emilie, is collecting linens, towels and clothing in her needlework guild.

Squad Taking Donations

The squad is still receiving donations at its office in the Bristol Municipal Building and through their members.

The squad will pick up donations, when necessary, at the donor's home. Two critically needed items sought for the Udeoka home are insulation material and a stove.

Should the gifts overflow the Udeoka's house—and it looks like they may—the Emergency Squad will come to the aid of any other destitute DP families in Magnolia Gardens who don't know the true story of America.

George Udeoka is in dire need of hospital treatment for arthritis, according to his wife, but yesterday he was reported to have found employment in a Bristol plant.

Ready Statement In Godfrey Case

CAA Says It Will Act In Few Days

NEW YORK — INS — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today it will announce publicly "within the next few days" what action it will take in the Arthur Godfrey-Teterboro Airport dispute.

In a statement, the CAA said the TV-radio entertainer Monday visited Ora W. Young, CAA regional director, in reply to a letter sent him Jan. 11 requesting an explanation on the alleged airport "buzzing" incident. They met at Young's offices at Idlewild Airport, Queens.

"He, Godfrey," the statement went on, "made his statement of the incident which will now be considered by the CAA together with statements of witnesses.

"Within the next few days, the CAA will announce its determination as to what action it will take."

If findings warrant it, Godfrey's pilot license could be suspended or revoked and he could be fined up to $1,000.

The New York Port Authority, filing a complaint with the CAA, charged the entertainer deliberately "buzzed" the control tower at the New Jersey airport last Jan. 7 during a take-off.

He assertedly was angered that he was ordered to use a runway other than one he preferred. Godfrey has said a bad cross-wind tossed his DC-3 off course as he lifted it off the runway. Returning from Miami on Sunday, Godfrey landed the same plane at Teterboro without incident.

Roads To Be Topic At Rotary Meeting

Robert Pearson of the Bucks County Planning Commission will speak on "Roads—Present and Future" at tonight's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Bucks County Lincoln Highway.

In announcing the meeting topic to members, Secretary Paul Sauerbry said: "In our fast growing community, this is a subject of vital importance and we welcome an opportunity to learn more about what's ahead for us on the busy lanes of traffic."

The group will meet for dinner at 7 p.m. at Flannery's Restaurant, Penndel.

Bensalem Alumni Hear Plea From Former Student

The application for membership of a former Bensalem student who left his class six months before graduation to enter the service was considered last night by the board of directors of Bensalem Township High School Alumni.

The applicant, who had completed his education in the service and had recived a diploma there, was accepted by the board in its first case of this nature. According to Wililam Bracke, the president, the Army diploma is recognized in each of the 48 states.

In further board business, William Johnsen, chairman of the film project committee, announced that a film entitled "Atomic Power" will be shown at the general alumni meeting Tuesday. The film will be preceded by a short business meeting in room six, at the high school. Refreshments will be served.

Name Is Retained By Delhaas Fathers

The Delhaas Fathers Association has decided upon a permanent name. It's to be known from now on as—the Delhaas Fathers Association.

The group voted last night to retain its temporary name, chosen by the high school students, Dr. Rod Carey, president, said.

The association's constitution was adopted last night and a program of speakers was tentatively drawn. The group has changed its meeting date to the second Monday of each month.

A discussion of a membership drive, under the direction of Charles Orr, chairman, was also held. Dr. Carey urges all community men to participate in the association. The seventh grade fathers served refreshments last night.

Kindergarten's Site Is Changed

L'Town Church Offer Accepted

A change in location of the Levittown Nursery and Kindergarten Cooperative, to open on Feb. 1, was announced today by Mrs. Arthur Danner.

The cooperative voted last night to accept the offer of the use of two rooms in the Faith Reform Church of Levittown. Classes had been scheduled to meet at the Fallsington Friends Meeting House, but as the church rooms are larger and facilitate the enrollment of more children, the new offer was accepted. A letter was sent to the Friends Meeting, Mrs. Danner said, thanking them for their cooperation in the past.

In connection with the new site, additional enrollment days have been scheduled for tomorrow and Monday. Applications will be accepted from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening on both days.

Interested persons may register with any one of the following representatives, at their homes, Mrs. Danner said: Mrs. Norman Weinstein, 76 Black Pine lane; Mrs. Roland Rhodes, 53 Garden lane; Mrs. Irving Weingberg, 26 Crescent lane, and Mrs. Sidney Brofman, 474 Stoneybrook drive.

Mrs. Danner said tuition will be collected at the time of enrollment. There is a $5 registration fee, she said, $1.25 yearly insurance fee for the child, and $10 will be collected each month.

"The $10 a month does not cover our costs," Mrs. Danner said. "It is only a partial payment. But as we are a cooperative, the remainder is paid through the participation of parents in group activities such as a transportation corps, maintenance work and teachers' assistants."

PARENTS SEEK NORMAL LIFE

Two-Headed Baby Taken Back Home; Some of Questions Are Unanswered

PETERSBURG, Ind.—(INS)—Indiana's famous two-headed baby began its first full day at home in Petersburg as its parents attempted to establish as "normal a life as possible" for the infant.

The child, a normal male from the hips down but more or less "twins" from the waist up including two heads and four arms, was born to Mrs. Margaret Hartley, 27, in Daviess County Hospital by Caesarean operation, Dec. 12.

It was brought immediately to Indiana University Medical Center. Mrs. Hartley and her husband, Cecil, 44, a $50-a-week ordnance worker, have said only that they want to establish a normal home-life for the child.

They originally planned to take the child home to Petersburg, Sunday, but objected to what they felt was undue publicity given their proposed arrival. They came to Indianapolis in an ambulance late Monday and left quietly with the child.

En route to the modern home to which they moved from a log cabin near Petersburg, the couple had to stop to feed the baby. A waitress at a roadside restaurant heated two bottles for the Hartleys, unaware they were for Indiana's most celebrated child.

The homecoming at 9 p. m. Monday proved more an ordeal for the parents than for the three daughters at home, Mary Lou, 5; Connie Sue, 4, and Shirley Ann, 2. Mary Lou provided the most tense moment when she asked:

"Why does the baby have two heads?"

No one answered.

Bensalem C. of C. Adopts 3-Point Program For '54

Vocational School Given Support; Talk Retail Aids

A three-fold program, including endorsement of a vocational school, the establishment of a retail trade council and an industrial survey of Lower Bucks County, was announced at last night's meeting of the Greater Bensalem Chamber of Commerce.

Robert K. Shafer, superintendent of Bensalem township schools, told the group, who met at a dinner meeting at the Buck Hotel, that a vocational-technical school would "not only fit boys and girls to take their rightful place in industrial and community life, but reduce juvenile delinquency by giving them a worthwhile interest in school work."

Shafer urged the members to support the school individually in addition to their support as members of the chamber. He said that the technical school committee was exploring the possibility of obtaining funds from four or five educational boards for use in purchasing a school site and obtaining legal counsel.

List Industry Sites

Frank J. Power of Langhorne, chairman of the industrial committee, announced plans for an industrial survey of the area. The survey will include available sites for industry, power and labor availability and other commodities necessary to labor.

The findings will be incorporated into a brochure, which will be distributed to industrial leaders and to other chambers of commerce.

Abbott Koffler of Trevose explained the benefits of a retail trade council to the members. He said a council would be similar to a businessmen's association, but would be under the guidance of the chamber. All members of the council would also be members of the chamber.

Coordinate Sale Days

Membership in the council, according to Koffler, would enable the merchants to buy goods in large lots, and therefore more cheaply. They would also be able to coordinate sale days and engage in group advertising.

Walter P. Schneck, manager of the Organization and Service Bureau of the State Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the group and assured them the state chamber would co-operate with them in any way possible in carrying out their 1954 program.

Earle S. Tomlinson, executive secretary of the chamber and master of ceremonies at last night's meeting, pointed out the need for co-operation from other groups. He said that aid from other organizations would be welcome.

About 40 members of the chamber attended the meeting. John Franks of the Bristol and Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce attended the meeting as a guest.

Morrisville VFW Maps Share In National Program

Members of Morrisville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6176 will take part in a celebration of National VFW Week beginning Sunday. Activities have been planned for each day of the week.

Burgess William Burgess issued a proclamation calling on the borough's residents to "render special tribute" to the VFW.

General chairman of the week-long activities is James A. Quill, junior vice-commander of the VFW post.

Sunday Observance

On the first day of the week Religion Freedom Day will be celebrated with VFW members attending the church of their faith.

The following day will see initiation of new members to the post at 8 p.m. On Jan. 26 VFW Youth Day will be observed with a performance by the post junior string band and baton twirlers at 7 p.m. at the post home. Leo J. Smith, Nicholas Basenko and Albert Sharpham will be in charge.

Community Service Day is set for Jan. 27 and "Jobs For Disabled Veterans Day" on Jan. 28.

Pledge Allegiance

Americanism and Post Activities Day will be held Jan. 29 with post members reaffirming their faith in the "American Way" with a mass pledge of allegiance to the Flag at the home at 9 p.m.

Open house will be observed Jan. 30 at the post home at 101 Hillcrest avenue, Morrisville, beginning at noon. Dancing is scheduled for the evening.

RESCUE SQUAD TO MEET

The Bucks County Rescue Squad will hold a regular monthly meeting at Croydon headquarters at 8 p.m. Thursday.
